ROUNDTABLE

1956 Volume I

Northwest Classen High School

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

Dedication

This edition of the Round Table, our first, is dedicated to beginnings.

Beginning again is a fascinating procedure. Frequently we hear, "Oh, if I could only start over, have another chance."

Aware of this plaint we have sincerely tried to build wisely on a firm foundation so there can be no future regrets.

Our student leaders have demonstrated courage, faith and understanding.

There are many things we'll always remember,

Those breathless pauses at the opening of each day when we listened reverently to inspiring devotionals;

Our ever-changing surroundings as the building progressed from day to day;

Those outdoor pep rallies, sans uniforms;

That first assembly in our beautiful auditorium;

The long, and loud, debates about choosing school colors, emblems, club names and pep club uniforms;

The make-up time assigned for parking in the wrong parking lot;

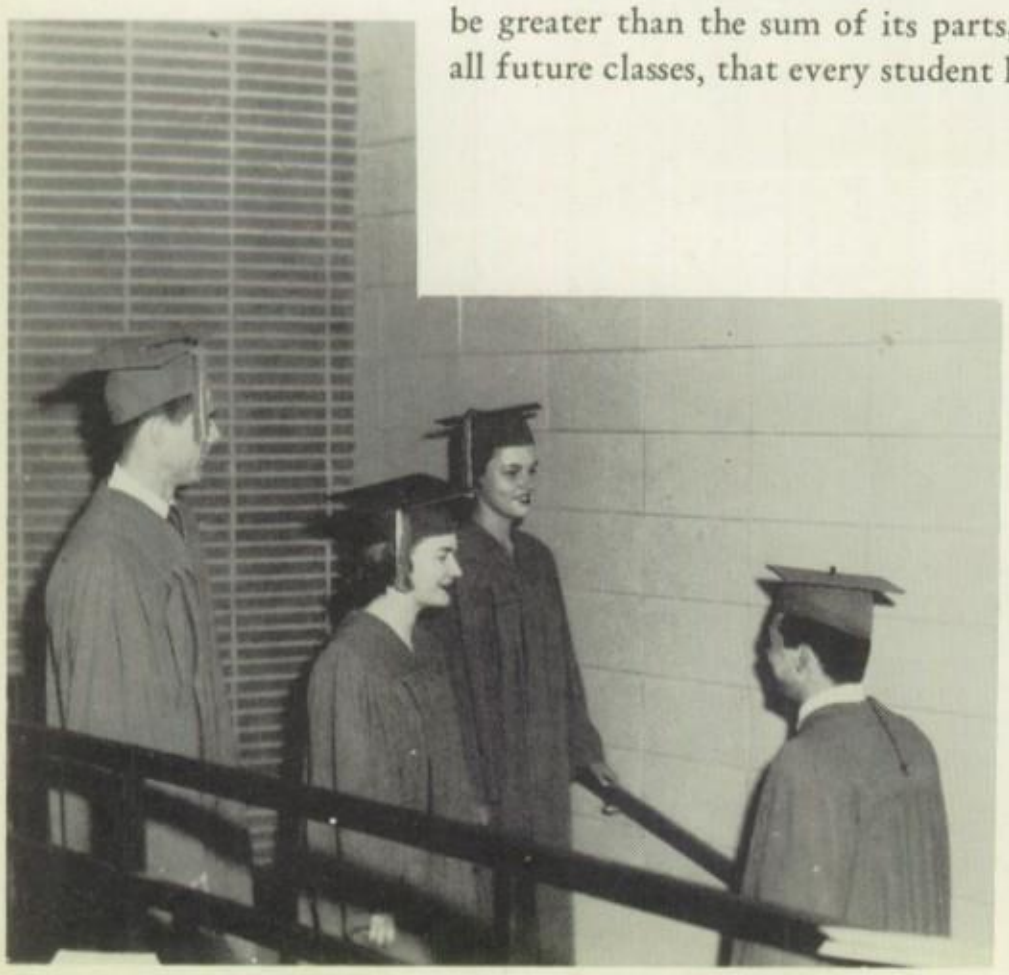
And never to be shared is the distinction of being a member of the first graduating class.

To our seniors of 1956 this first volume is respectfully inscribed. May it hold memories that will make significant forever, this our first year at Northwest Classen.

To student leaders who shaped our first year here;

To teachers who symbolize the ideals we shall cherish;

But especially to the Class of '56 whose slogan,—"Northwest Classen can never be greater than the sum of its parts,"—may be a constant reminder to us, and to all future classes, that every student here is a part of the sum total.



Jo Ann Garrison will remain in the memory of future classes as the designer of the school emblem.

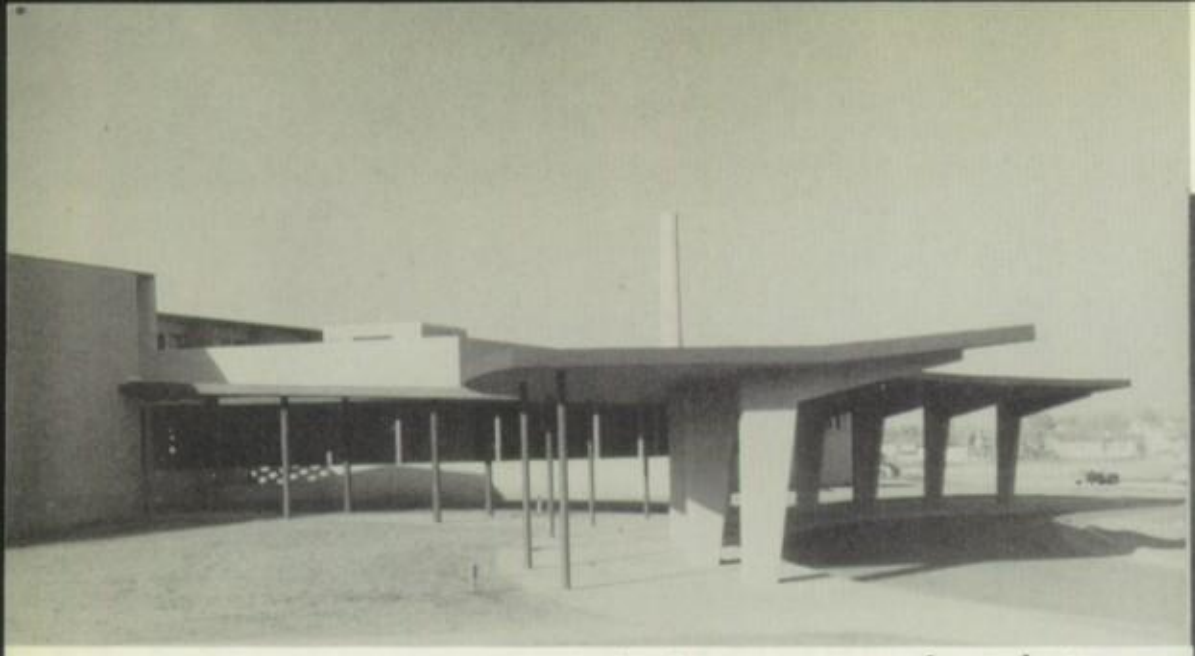
T. PYER.



From this airy, sunlit, circular drive one enters the student lounge, library and social center.

Our Physical Education building, one of the most modern in the Southwest, is the center of much community activity, especially during basketball season.

This scenic closeup of the main entrance shows the modernistic, two-story glass wall, clock and carport.

Something more than bricks and mortar,
Something more than plans and toilers;
More than books and bells and teachers,
More than boys and girls and futures,—
A school is born!

This long expanse of class rooms is protected from glare by a wide overhang and spaced louvers.

Side entrance to the administrative offices and conference room faces southwest and will be gay with planters.

The auditorium seats 1600. Destined to become known as "home of the Classics" it has one of the best equipped stages in Oklahoma City.

DR. J. CHESTER SWANSON
Superintendent of Oklahoma City Schools

"It is very important that our city and nation give high priority to its educational system. Oklahoma City schools try to provide the best possible opportunities for our youth. All students must be trained to assume useful places in our American Way of Life.

As the first graduating class from Northwest Classen, you have the unique privilege of laying the foundation of honor and tradition for those who will follow you. May you feel that you have assumed these responsibilities and fulfilled them successfully with joy, dignity and poise."

Sincerely,
Dr. J. Chester Swanson
Superintendent of Schools

DR. N. L. GEORGE
Assistant Superintendent

DR. MEL BARNES

BOARD OF EDUCATION
Mr. Phil Bennett, Member; Mr. C. B. McCray, Member; Mrs. L. D. Melton; Member; Mr. Jim Wright, Vice-president; Mr. Otto Thompson, President.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION
The executive board of the PTA meets with Mr. W. H. Taylor, Principal of Northwest Classen High School. Mrs. Frank S. Thomlinson, President; Mrs. Wally Wallis, Treasurer; Mrs. W. L. Counts, Delegate; Mrs. Cecil Perkins, First vice-president; Mrs. Joseph W. Kelso, Parliamentarian; Mrs. Claude Hammond, Secretary; Mr. W. H. Taylor; Mrs. W. L. Robertson, Membership Chairman; Mrs. Glenn Jones, Historian; Mrs. Tom Barnhart Jr., Second Vice-president.

Always available for advice or assistance is our esteemed assistant principal, Mr. Lloyd M. Estes. Our Proctor system of aiding students and visitors in the halls, informing students of school regulations, and keeping the halls clear during class session is directed by Mr. Estes. He also directs the Engineers who operate the Central Sound System.

Mr. Lloyd Estes
Assistant Principal

Mr. George Brucher
Boys Counselor

Miss Inez Ellis
Tests and Measurements

Miss Retha Hulet
Girls Counselor

In charge of arranging schedules, counseling students and giving college advice, are our counselors Mr. George Brucher, Miss Retha Wave Hulet. Miss Inez Ellis in charge of tests and measurements also does counseling and teaches Latin.

Control (Enters and Centers) Here

Mr. Alvin Bryan
Financial Secretary

Balancing the books, screening films, enforcing parking lot regulations, checking car registrations are a few of the extra-curricular duties of Mr. Alvin Bryan, of the math and audio-visual departments.

Nerve center of the school is the main office and its occupants, Mrs. Reba James, Mrs. Mary Lane, Mrs. Delma Harris, Mrs. Billye Jo Pearce.

Teachers in the Mathematics Department contrive to stimulate student interest by sponsoring clubs and department activities. Miss Mary Pruitt; Miss Bernice Gordon; Mrs. Nellie B. Ecton; Mr. Rodney I. St. Dizier; Mrs. Jane Mooney; Mrs. Reba Clark, department head.

Class work +

Foreign Languages furnish fun and interest. Through efforts of the language teachers, a wide variety of Foreign Languages is offered, including: Spanish, Latin, German, French. Miss Henrietta Von Tungeln; Mrs. Audrie E. Alberts; Mr. Virgil Caldwell discuss a perfect test paper.

Participation = Learning

Miss Lucille Willoughby; Miss Lelia Pickard; Miss Inez Ellis study the Knights' coat-of-arms for an appropriate school motto.

Skills learned in the Business Education Department help students in all walks of life. Miss Mildred Holland; Mr. Gene Loftis; Mr. Clark Cunningham; Mrs. Ivy Copeland; Mrs. Maxine Tyler are always alert to ways to improve their operations and procedures.

MISS BETH WEST

Distributive Education, Job Supervision, Sponsor of D. E. Club, OCCTA representative leads a busy, and therefore, happy life.

Busy, Busy, Busy, Business

MR. JOHN STANDRIDGE

Diversified Occupations, Job Supervision, Sponsor of D.O. Club has organized a Trade and Industry chapter for his students this year.

MRS. IVY COPELAND

Machine Bookkeeping, Office Practices, Typing, Co-sponsor of Commercial Club, finds keeping office machines in good running condition is a 'trick of the trade'.

Mrs. Hazel Livingston, Mr. Landes Horton, Miss Audrie Alberts and Mrs. Mabel Park discuss points to be highlighted in a book review.

The desire to speak, write and read our native language intelligently is the hallmark of a true scholar. Appreciation of literature, poetry and drama may seem pretty "square" to teen-agers of the high school variety, but the experience results in a richer understanding of books, the world at large, and the ability to judge people. Knowledge is of little use to us if we cannot effectively express ourselves to others. English activities at Northwest Classen afford opportunities in Creative Writing, Newspapering and Yearbook production, and all forms of Speech Courses.

Mrs. Rubye Lee Thrasher, Miss Della Link and Miss Helen Bourke admonish, "Shoot us while we're looking pleasant, please!"

Miss Katherine Gibson and Mrs. Mabel Knight pause for a brief remark on a recent commentary on education.

Themes, Schemes, Dreams

Northwest Classen's library beckons all, even those who do not frequent libraries with any degree of regularity. The colorful reading tables, the excellent lighting and the convenient open shelves of books exercise attractions that are hard to resist. Research material is plentiful, and Students have a wide variety of books to choose from for leisure reading or for reports. Few high schools in Oklahoma have as extensive reading opportunities. Stack rooms are at the rear and over head. An Oklahoma Room is being developed.

Mrs. Alma Doughty, Miss Eunice Cockrum, forego their librarian duties just long enough to permit the staff photographer to get them in under the Round Table dead line.

Mr. Robert Curry, Commercial Art, inspects a poster for the National Printer's Week poster contest.

Competition in the Regional Scholastic Art Contest is an important part of the training of students in the Creative Art department. Three folios were entered at Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania in 1956. Miss Mary Lamb Lewis explains requirements to Ann Hayes and Edna Chapman.

Art's challenge, to see, to feel, to portray!

Mr. Leonard F. Marcottes' courses in Industrial Arts are popular. Students work with metal and wood. A beautiful plaque, in burnished copper, was created for NWC's National Honor Society chapter.

Mr. Charles Kerr, Mr. Duane Weinert, Mr. Clay Davis and Mr. Bill Long discuss plans for the city wide political conventions designed to teach actual operation of national nominating convention. The project was sponsored by the Board of Education.

History paves the path to understanding

Miss Blanche Holland, Miss Ophelia Byars and Miss Gladys Shepard consider that science is as vital to society as history.

"I have no lamp to guide my feet but the lamp of experience. I know no way to judge the future but by the past." An appreciation of HISTORY and WORLD PROBLEMS and ability to understand ourselves and our neighbors, permits us to become better future citizens. Students aware of their nation's heritage and the achievements of our forefathers strive to emulate qualities of leadership. At Northwest Classen, American history, World history, World problems, social problems, psychology, government and student government, train toward intelligently assuming responsibilities and obligations to be met in a new and little known atomic age. We had no lamp of experience to guide us. We are pioneering in a great new educational adventure—our own Northwest Classen. May our efforts establish a firm foundation.

As long as food is vital to life, good cooks will be in demand. Mrs. Edna L. Hedges and the girls in her culinary department excel in preparing menus that are both balanced and attractive.

Food, Clothing and Shelter- Man's Basic Needs

"In learning to cook
And sew a fine seam
These students accomplish
While others may dream."

"A stitch in time saves nine." Selecting quality clothing of taste and distinction—a subject of unfailing interest to all girls, is a specialty of Mrs. Ramah Miller's classes.

This "Line-up" of eight fine fellows composes the coaching staff for boys sports. Mr. Jack Roblyer, football; Mr. Carroll Smelser is department head; Mr. Bill Long, Assistant Coach; Mr. Clay Davis, baseball; Mr. Paul Crowe, football; Mr. Rex Irwin, track; Mr. Bob Curry, tennis and swimming; Mr. Leonard Marcotte, wrestling.

Physical fitness sets life's tempo.

Miss Kathleen Owen and Miss Nona Cowan discuss a busy day's activities.

A well-rounded physical fitness program is important at Northwest Classen. One year of physical education is required for graduation. The athletic program is designed to train in ideals of teamwork, sportsmanship. Students are encouraged to acquire enough proficiency in individual sports to provide a source of recreation and pleasure after they leave high school. No one sport receives special emphasis. There are classes in team and individual sports. Facilities for the department, when completed, will include a boys and girls gymnasium, tennis courts, baseball, track and football fields, a sun and tennis deck and a pool.

Intramural sports give each student a chance to participate in some form of sports. There are invitational tournaments, state and city meets, and state tournaments, in almost every sport taught at Northwest.

Mrs. Rose Marie Cherry, Mrs. Fern Smith, and Mr. Ted Nichols discuss the next production of the speech department.

Mrs. Nevva Ione Sartin and a couple of her staff members pleasantly contemplate the huge bulletin board in the journalism department that will be ready when school opens in September '56.

Organized Confusion pays off here with top productions

"Where's that copy for the Senior Page? . . . Help! someone, we've lost those pictures . . . Get Semco on the phone! I think we've pasted this up wrong! If we have I won't be able to stand it !!! . . . MRS. SARTIN! MRS. SARTIN! . . . Someone get the phone! . . . Quick! someone take this up to the art staff for me! They were supposed to have it yesterday! . . . Oh! Oh! Oh! . . . Where's Mrs. Sartin!? . . . Danny! Daaannneeeee! . . . Great balls of fire! He was supposed to be there to take those pictures! Does someone have a Brownie at home? Hurry! Get your car and go home and get it before assembly's over!! . . . Has anyone seen Mrs. Sartin? . . . Do you all realize that the deadline is Saturday !!! . . . It's lost! It's lost! I shall die right here! . . SOMEONE GET THE PHONE! . . . Who spilled the rubber cement? . . . Shut up, you all, I can't hear a word they're saying! Hello? Hello? Hell— . . Oh, oh, ooohhhh—Why didn't someone tell me this typewriter didn't have a ribbon! I just typed up the best ten pages of copy I've ever written and it's gone. Gone, gone, gone with the wind . . . I'm going to the Clinic . . . Hasn't anyone seen her!? . . . Who? . . . Mrs. Sartin, you idiot! . . . Sshhh! they're talking on the P.A. system! . . . I don't care! I don't care! I've lost those pictures and if they're gone I'll kill myself, do you hear!? Someone answer the phone! . . . Hurry, hurry! . . . I'm losing my mind, I'm losing my mind!! . . . Mrs. Saarrtttiinnn! . . .The deadline, the deadline! Hurry! . . . Praise God! we made it! (Simultaneous fainting.)

Mr. Frank Vitale, vocal music, and Mr. Arthur Johnson, instrumental music, examine a score for the "Classics of '56."

Whether it's a skinned shin, measles, mumps, a math test, spring fever or need of smelling salts after deadlines or rehearsals, Mrs. Nola Moore is always on hand. A telephone call quickly decides whether the "patient" should remain in school or be sent home.

Mr. Charles Hale, Auto Mechanics, helps students locate the trouble.

Mr. Alonzo Norwood, Mechanical Drawing, plans the next day's assignment.

Mr. Maurice Ghormley, woodwork, tells a student how to use a power tool.

Mr. Paul Crowe, Drivers Education, maps out the day's route to students.

Skills, Thrills, Spills

Engineering drawing is the graphic language used by engineers and industrial designers. The artist strives to produce a picture which will impart a mental impression produced by the object itself. The subject is essential in all types of engineering practice. The drafting board is often the gateway into industry. An engineer without a working knowledge of the engineer's language would be professionally illiterate.

The average driver views his automobile as an invention designed for his convenience. But boys studying auto mechanics see it as a triumph of engineering and mechanical skill, contrived of hundreds of parts assembled into a smoothly functioning unit. Students taking auto mechanics learn the names of each part, how and where each fits and the job each part performs.

Woodworking coordinates manipulations of the hands and brain. Wood has played an important part in the development of mankind. Wood enters directly, or indirectly, into the construction of more manufactured articles than any other one material. Students work on individual projects which are placed on exhibit in the department once a year.

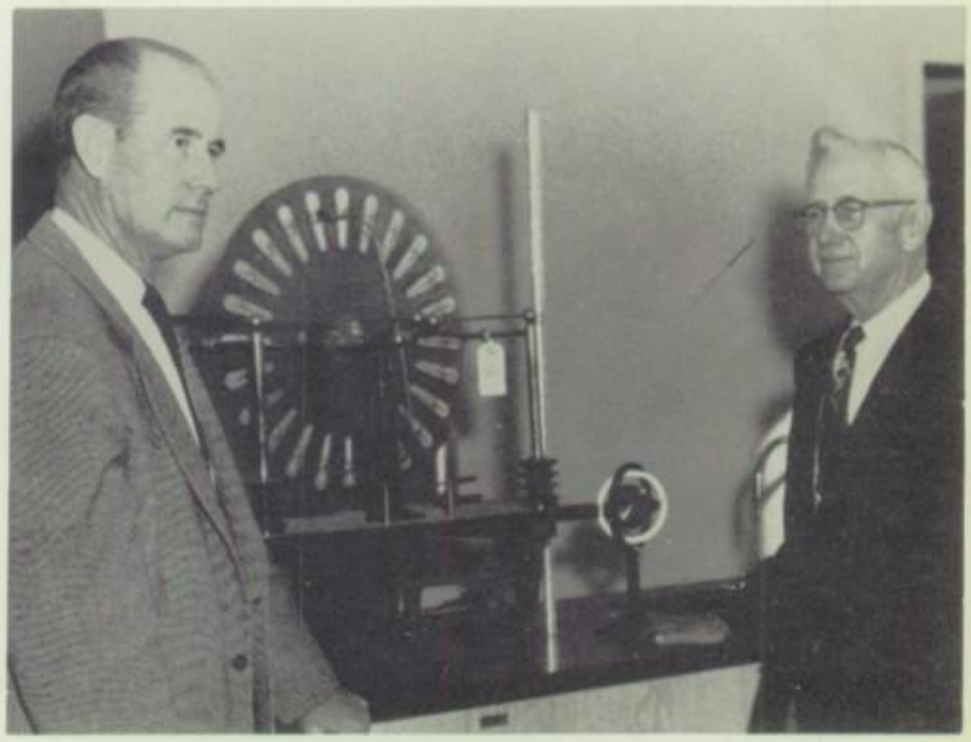
Drivers Education is a one semester course. Students are taught the rules of safe driving. Principles of operating a car, down to changing a tire are studied. A special dual control car is used for instruction. Classes are arranged so that a student goes to class once a week and drives once a week. The class is reserved for students who are at least fifteen and a half years old.

Mrs. Geraldine Buzbee and Mr. John Paden examine plant life that is to be studied in biology.

Northwest Classen has an exceptionally capable science faculty. Under their inspiration a number of students have gone on to study and make outstanding contributions to the world. Biological science helps us to appreciate man's place in the world of living things. We learn about our own bodies and how they function. We can be startled by hundreds of facts about plants and animals. But most important the study of biology will give us an understanding of the scientific point of view that can help us in everyday life. Biology comes from a Greek word "bios" which means life and "logos" meaning study. Biology is international, many people in many lands are striving to learn and to discover the facts of life and all have the same problems to solve. Ideas are exchanged and the results are made known for the benefit of all mankind.

Bugs, Rocks and Shocks

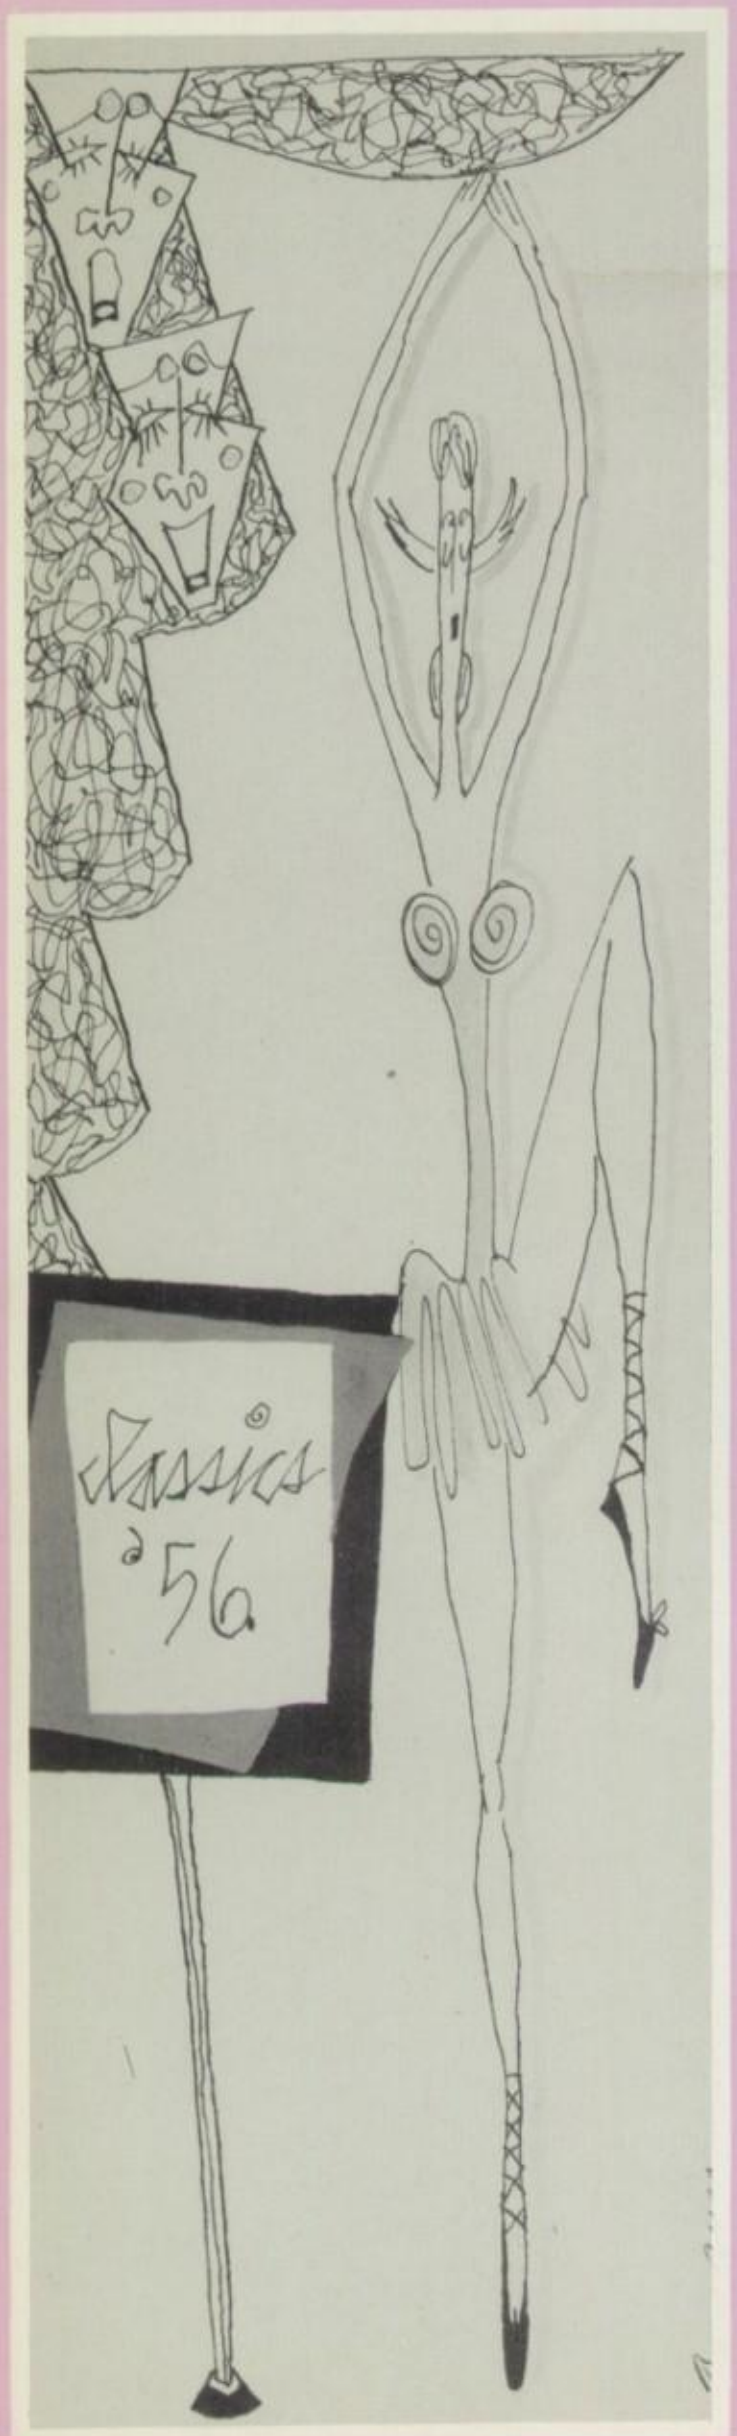
Without knowledge of chemistry, life would be remarkably different. From chemistry laboratories come an endless procession of new materials to satisfy our needs and desires. An understanding of chemistry enables a student to reason scientifically. The scientist doesn't combine incompatible elements, at least not often. Knowledge of physics is fast becoming vital to all of us. In today's world, which is a totally new one, scientifically speaking, it behooves each of us to become aware of the significance of scientific advances if civilization is to survive.



Mr. Jim Conger, Physics, and Mr. Carl Shafer, Chemistry, demonstrate equipment for science classes.

Geology puts the student on familiar terms with the earth about him. It is not a subject to be studied for months or years before it can be turned to use. By the time a student has finished the first week of study, he should be better able to understand his surroundings. One must look far below the surface in order to catch the thrill of the majestic forces which have sculptured our earth. The student of geology sees much more than is apparent to the untrained eye. Wherever one goes, structures of geological interest surround him. To the geologist the world can never be little, dull or common place.

Miss LaVerna Pendleton and Mr. Wesley Sullivan discuss problems referring to applied science and geology.



New school! New names for most groups, but, by and large, about the same activities by the same crowd. A bowling league, an F.H.A. chapter and above all, North Central rating, mark highlights.

We participate in national, state and city organizations. For those who love pep assemblies, athletic events and dances, pep clubs offer wonderful opportunities. Students who excel in math, science, foreign languages, writing, ORGANIZATIONS. . .

Our first assembly! A Cappella Choir members in a gala review of country dances and songs of the West entertained us royally.

commercial subjects, art, music, gain enjoyment through numerous clubs that increase awareness of benefits in those fields.

Then there is our lawmaking body, the Student Council. Its activities contribute much to the spirit of fine citizenship and community activities that distingush the student body.

"All A's!" is the slogan of NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY members. However, scholarship must be more than just top grades. Qualities of leadership, character and service to your school are stressed.

Two initiations are conducted each year. Activities begin in the fall with a reception for faculty members and parents. Forty-one persons qualified for the fall initiation, and twenty-five seniors were initiated at the spring ceremony.

We worked hard to attain high goals,

Do you like things keyed to the Nth degree? You'd be happy then in the HONOR MATH SOCIETY. It was organized by students who consider themselves wizards at 'figgers'. Sponsored by Mrs. Reba Clark the Society gives recognition to students who demonstrate outstanding ability in mathematics.

Row 1—Collinson, Martin, Hagen, Hann, Meadows. Row 2—Bremicker, Early, Keefer, Kerr, Mann. Row 3—Wells, Comstock, Trekell, Denison, Warren. Row 4—Mitchell, Sims, Hill, Carter, Crabtree.

Members of JUNIOR HONOR MATH have given such a fine account of themselves since they were organized, in response to demands for a math club for students not yet eligible for Honor Math proper, that they deserve recognition on their own. The junior division prepares students for membership in the advanced group. Mrs. Reba Clark sponsors activities of the junior society so as to correlate the clubs.

"Good morning, Northwest Classen Knights!" How familiar these words are to every Northwest student. ANNOUNCER'S CLUB is one of our largest. Members transmit the daily announcements during the fourth hour. Meetings feature discussions on announcing problems, and members are taught the art of speaking distinctly. Sponsor of the group is Mr. R. T. Nichols.

Supplying music for the lunch hours in the Social Center, handling the mechanics of communication between the classroom and office and for the daily announcements keeps THE ENGINEERS busy every hour of the day. The boys channel into classrooms programs from KOKH-FM. Mr. Lloyd Estes trains the Engineers for their job.

UNDERSTUDIES have a great many chores,too. They must show their worth in order to qualify for membership in the Little Theatre group.

The show must go on!

"Make me look purty, please."

"I'll take this 'un,—you take that!"

Organizing the script, props, selecting actors and actresses, auditions and rehearsals and any of the other multitude of tasks necessary when a play is being produced,are done by members of PLAY PRODUCTION. They are enrolled in Mrs. Rose Marie Cherry's first hour drama class.

Speech students interested in the technical side of play production study the art of stage lighting and setting with Mr. Ted Nichols. This year's project centered on the magnificent sets prepared for the all-school talent show, Classics of '56, "Crossroads, USA".

COURTESY CLUB is divided into two groups. The senior group ushers for all school events. In case there are not enough seniors, juniors and sophomore members come to their aid. Some of the duties are showing guests through our new building and helping with P.T.A. open houses. Ushering for the senior assembly, senior sermon, commencement, and award assemblies are their yearly services to the school. This year they had a Valentine's party for all members. Miss Della Link sponsors the senior group and Mrs. Fern Smith sponsors the junior and sophomore group.

Looking after all the books in the new Northwest Classen library is quite a chore. LIBRARY AIDES help the librarians, Miss Eunice Cochrum and Mrs. Alma Doughty, check books in and out and distribute library notices. Also, Library Aides assist students in finding material for term themes, show them how to use the card file and the Reader Guide. The work carries credit.

Helping Mrs. Nola Moore, R.N. by dispensing aspirin and giving minor first aid, CLINIC AIDES earn one-fourth credit a semester. The girls also distribute notices to teachers when students become ill during the day.

Participating in the Youth in Government Program, World Service Program and in the Hi-Y all-City basketball league, Northwest Classen's HI-Y made an outstanding record for itself. The boys get together at least once a year to spend a day at Turner Falls. Also the club goes to church as a group one Sunday each year. Mr. Landes Horton sponsors its activities.

To YOUTH OF THE KINGDOM goes credit for the inspirational devotionals we enjoyed at the opening of each school day. Youth of the Kingdom's membership exceeds that of any other organization at Northwest Classen with four hundred and eighteen members. Its main purpose is to enrich the lives of students by stimulating interest in religious work and youth groups. Mr. Clark Cunningham and Mrs. Edna Hedges sponsor its activities.

You must be a junior, 16, or older to qualify for DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION courses. On-the-job training gives D. E. students experience in distribution and retailing of merchandise. Class assignments deal with the requirements of their respective job connections.

D. E. Club activities contribute to members' civic training. Miss Beth West directs activities of the club.

We learn to do, by doing.

Students interested in commercial occupations participate in the COMMERCIAL CLUB. During their meetings, they discuss topics ranging from the electric typewriter to good grooming. Before Christmas they had a lesson on package wrapping. Higher secretarial training is encouraged. Miss Mildred Holland helps them with their various activities.

We keep our feet on the ground.

Never a dull moment! This first year for Northwest Classen's STUDENT COUNCIL has been a busy one. Approving new names and banners or organizations, granting charters to new clubs and re-chartering old, writing and adopting a constitution, and making general rules for student conduct has kept them fully occupied. President, Sarah Jones and officers, Ann Robertson, Frank Robertson and Kent Meyers with sponsor, Mr. Jack Roblyer, journeyed to Columbia, South Carolina for the S.A.S.C. convention in November. The president and sponsor attended National Student Council Convention during the summer, and the state convention. Representatives of Student Council participate in Intra-city Student Council and compose part of the board for the all-city dances.

One outstanding project this year was sponsoring Guy Poizat, exchange student from Belgium. A program of intra-school exchange day activities was inaugurated and will become a regular procedure. Funds for projects sponsored by the Council come from operation o fthe student store.

For the many students at Northwest Classen interested in aviation, we have the AERONAUTICS CLUB sponsored by Mr. J. H. Conger.

Among trips planned by the group, the main tour was to Vance Air Force Base, Enid. Other trips taken during the year were to Tinker Field Airport, Downtown airport and the Will Rogers weather station. Members were also guests of Oklahoma A&M College.

Looking over Aeronautics yearly budget are Frank Modlin, pres.; Ruth Ann Harris, treas.; Walter Kendall, parl.; Gary McKeel, v. pres.

An organization that promotes interest in AMATEUR RADIO provides a meeting place and time for members to discuss radio fundamentals and exchange ideas. Instructions in operating technique and equipment maintenance are provided. The group learns International Morse Code. Mr. Rodney St. Dizier directs the group.

Acting only when called upon, the SUPREME COURT is Northwest Classen's highest student judicial body. It interprets and passes on rules and regulations proposed by the Student Council and serves as a court of appeal for students convicted in Proctor Court. It is the only tribunal for trying Student Council members and Proctors who receive subpoenas. The court consists of four associate justices, a bailiff, two court clerks, and one chief justice.

A section of the Proctor Court including the judge, jury, and a few of the defendants.

I swear,

I didn't do it!

Hearings in PROCTOR COURT concern first offenders and violations of a lesser nature. The court consists of two prosecuting attorneys, a court clerk, a bailiff, and a judge. Proctor Court meets every Wednesday during Activity period. A jury of seven selected from the student body listens to the testimony and decides whether the defendant is guilty. Mr. Lloyd Estes guides the court in its work.

Directing traffic in Northwest Classen's large parking lot, checking cars to see if they are registered, and assuring safe driving by enforcing the traffic rules are the duties of the SECURITY PATROL. The Patrol issues tickets if students disobey rules, and offenders must appear in Proctor Court. Mr. Alvin Bryan directs work of the Patrol.

"May I see your hall pass?" Anyone out of class during the day hears these words as many times as he makes the rounds of his particular errand. Each hour there is a proctor captain who is in charge of the other proctors placed in different parts of the building. Proctors assist visitors in the building or on the grounds. They enforce the rules and regulations Northwest Classen's students have subscribed to. A subpoena to appear in Proctor Court is issued to offenders of the laws.

There's a social side, too. Proctors elected Joyce Wallace queen of the organization and held a social for the proctors. Mr. Lloyd Estes presides over activities of the group.

It's no fun to buck the rules.

Creating "appeal factors" is the mission of the ROUND TABLE ART STAFF. Color, cover and design, division pages, end sheets and the opening section are produced by members of the Round Table Art Staff.

Dummy pages! Take pictures! Write copy and work like mad on holidays! This is a very familiar routine to those lucky people selected to work on the yearbook. And we love it.

This year found us without a name for our book, as well as without names for organizations. There was a hazy notion about what would probably develop, but no set design. Many hot arguments ensued. Here are Suzy Eagleton, organizations; Larry Kelley, sports; Roberta Taylor, organizations; Marlene Malherbe, classes; Lynn Steelman, faculty; Judy Broach, features; Barbara Ervin, faculty; Barbara Mitchell, features; John Carleton, sports; Jim Elkouri, in charge of the index; in the midst of one of them.

ART NOUVEAU sponsors art activities of the school and participates in city-wide and state art competitions. Requirement for membership is a devotion to the best in art.

Excursions, lectures and discussion panels are features of regular meetings. Miss Mary Lamb Lewis and Mr. Robert Curry guide the club's activities.

Bowls or bowling? We make a strike.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA was organized at Northwest Classen this year. There are many details attending a venture of introducing a club of this size despite strong state and national directives. Some ninety girls participated in the program. Spring style shows were this year's biggest undertaking. Mrs. Ramah Miller and Mrs. Edna Hedges sponsor the group.

BOWLING was organized at the beginning of the year by a group of students interested in this recreation. They meet each Tuesday afternoon at the Bowlarena immediately following school. In addition to giving members a chance to become better bowlers, the club sponsors a social program for those participating. Mr. Ted Nichols assists with club activities.

Loyal knights have found,

"Oh, the band is coming!" And with this we settle into our seats with a thrill of pride warming us as our band, some seventy students strong, marches into position on the football field at half-time.

Basketball games, pep rallies, assemblies would be very different if the band weren't there. Then there are the down town parades at Christmas, '89er's day and others.

What would Classics be without our musicians music makes the world go 'round.

to create musical tempo and mood? Even at commencement familiar melodies make the meaning and the memory fuller.

Regardless of rain, snow, wind or sleet, band members always meet. But appreciation from their fellow students take some of the sting out of the long hours of practice, and we boast one of the top musical aggregations in the high school field.

You have to be an early bird to be a member of this group as they convene at 7:30 with Mr. Frank Vitale, District, state and tri-state music festivals, television appearances, assemblies, and special programs for Christmas, Easter, and Commencement keep members of THE A CAPPELLA CHOIR in perfect pitch.

The A Cappella Choir won a supreme rating at District this year at Oklahoma City University.

Another music group selected from the A Cappella Choir is the Cryslurs. They are students particularly interested in participating in programs outside of school activities.

The Boys and Girls Glee Club appeared in our Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies. This group does not usually enter contests but they are still very outstanding.

Mr. Frank Vitale is the active leader of all of these groups.

They bring a splash of splendor

Basketball! Baseball! Tennis! THE GIRLS' "O" CLUB is composed of girls who letter in one of the girls' sports. Members of the club promote intramural participation and good sportsmanship. One of their activities of the year is sponsoring a picnic for the Boys' "O" Club. Miss Nona Cowan and Miss Kathleen Owen are advisers of the group.

Needs we mention, get their attention.

Where does our pep come from? Why, from THE PEP COUNCIL, of course. Two representatives from each pep club, the "O" Clubs, and the cheerleaders form the Council. They discuss any matters which concern athletic events. This year they set up the "Peanuts for Polio" drive for the pep clubs. Football and basketball programs, dates for pep assemblies and capers have been made possible by the Council.

Cygnet, meaning small white swan, was the name selected by one fem pep club, formerly the Comes.

Cygnet members have had a busy year They carried on the long established custom of honoring the football boys with a banquet at which the players were awarded their letters. A social was given for the new club officers. Capers for pep assemblies, welfare and charity drives have created a full time after-school and week-end schedule.

Miss Nona Cowan, Miss Lucille Willoughby and Mrs. Mary Jane Mooney assist the two-hundred members in planning and channeling activities.

Organized to render service,

"Hear ye! Hear ye! Knights of Northwest, We've got a team we know is best!"

Does this ring a bell? It should. That is the CORONETS' pep club yell. Choosing new uniforms, a new name, a new emblem, and a new yell were a few of the jobs members encountered this first year. A new uniform of purple skirt, gold sweater with the school emblem on the front, white blouse, purple socks, and black and white saddle oxfords was adopted. During October the Coronets gave a Harvest Social. Main activity of the Coronets, as it was when they were Classettes, is sponsoring a banquet honoring members of the basketball team. A program features the affair and members distribute letters to players who have earned one. A dance follows the banquet.

The club's numerous activities are sponsored by Miss Ophelia Byers, Mrs. Nellie Ecton, Miss Katherine Gibson, and Mrs. Maxine Tyler.

FALCONS PEP CLUB

FALCONS, Northwest Classen's name for the boys' pep club known as Blue Jackets at Classen, faced many decisions, too. What to call themselves awaited announcement of a name for the student body. Then they chose Falcon to complement the theme, Knights, the falcon being the hunting bird of medieval royalty.

New uniforms are to be purple corduroy jackets displaying the school emblem upon the back.

At the Thanksgiving formal Joyce Collins was crowned Falcons' queen. Other socials were a Bowery Ball and a Shipwreck Social. Falcons participated in the "Peanuts for Polio" drive and the Christmas campaign of "Toys for Tots."

LANCERS PEP CLUB

LANCERS, boys' pep club, is organized to promote spirit at the various athletic events. In keeping with customs of chivalry and days of Knighthood, Lancers were the soldiers who aided the Knight and defended the castle. The boys chose the name Lancers to replace Meteors feeling their mission is to aid Northwest Knights and defend the fair name of our school—the Knight's castle. The group sponsored several socials and picnics, gave a dance at Christmas time, elected a queen and collected baskets of food to be given to less fortunate families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Membership is by application. The custom of rough initiation was abandoned by the group this year. Sponsors of the group are Mr. Charles Hale and Mr. Wesley Sullivan.

The pep was tame 'til the Lancers Came.

The philosophy of sports does not pertain solely to athletes. It has a meaning for everyone. The hope of inculcating traits that will enable all sports participants to meet life's battle with their best capacities is the ambition of Northwest Classen's Physical Education program.

This purpose may sound too idealistic against the tumultuous times in which we live. But to put realism into it Oklahoma City High School sports departments, this year originated and introduced THE SPORTSMANSHIP CODE.

Based on four items and definite ratings for each it totalled fifteen points for each sports event. Two students, from each school belonging to the INTER-CITY STUDENT COUNCIL, judged conduct at games during the basketball season.

September 9—Here
Northwest 27—Ardmore 7

The Knights dropped Ardmore 27-7 in this season opener. Ron Hall averaged seven yards a carry in 26 tries. Some fine double teaming was turned in by Bill English, center, and Bill Peterson, guard. Hall picked up two touchdowns and set up the other two.

September 16—There
Northwest 34—Southeast 0

Lineman, Dub Watson and halfback, Bud Batten helped subdue the Spartans. Watson recovered three fumbles which materialized into scores. Batten crossed the double stripe twice on runs of 3 and 15 yards.

September 23—Here
Northwest 21—Elk City 6

Elk City was a new opponent. Kenny Burke, Bob Cornell and Ron Hall teamed together for three six-pointers, aided by guard Bob Hays' three perfect kicks. Mickey Fentriss started the ball rolling when he recovered a fumble in the first half on the Elks' four yard line. Cornell put it to good use by going over in the next play.

September 29—Here
Northwest 32—Lawton 7

Bill Hammond, Northwest's big 225, 6'6" end, made the longest pay dirt run of this game. He raced 24 yards on an intercepted pass which washed out hopes of a comeback for 1500 Lawton fans. Paul Meade, linebacker, made himself useful as he plugged up holes and put a monkey wrench in the Lawton machine.

October 7—There
Northwest 12—Northeast 13

The fired-up Vikings pulled the first upset of the season by downing the favored Knights by a single digit. Mike Patterson, guard, was side-lined by a knee injury in the second-half after playing a fine defensive game. The injury benched him for the rest of the season. Two scores by the powerful running of Ronnie Hall just weren't enough.

October 14—There
Northwest 31—Central 6

conference test. Ron Hall and Bud Batten scored twice with Kenny Burke picking up the other on the fine ball handling of quarterback, Dale Anderson.

October 21—Here
Northwest 7—Capitol Hill 20

Bob Cornell passed 24 yards to Bud Batten for the tally which held the Redskins to a 7-7 halftime deadlock. The Hillers came back with a passing attack which saw the Knights bite the dust.

October 27—Here
Northwest 27—Enid 6

Quarterback, Bob Cornell, could have been called the outstanding player in this test. He ran 33 yards for the first tally and passed to big Bill Hammond for two more, one for 30 and the other for 10 yards. Then he recovered a fumble on the Knights' 34, and finished by completing 6 of 11 tries in the air for 111 yards. Vernie Sanders, halfback, and Kelly Gilbert, tackle, brought down several would-be break-away runners to stop several threats.

November 4—There
Northwest 14—Seminole 0

Scoring from the one, Ron Hall and Bill Hammond's pass from Bob Cornell in the end zone dropped the Chieftains, 14-0. The real honors went to the linemen in an outstanding defensive battle. Standouts included Bill English, center, Bill Peterson, guard, Barney Barnett, linebacker, George Hulsey, guard, and Walt Metcalfe, tackle.

November 11—There
Northwest 35—Shawnee 14

End, Jim Seamans, broke into the scoring column with two first-half touchdowns, one for 27 yards and another for 10. Bud Batten, Ken Burke and Ron Hall chipped in to tumble the Wolves to third place in Mid-State play.

November 18—Here
Northwest 12—Tulsa Rogers 34

Reserve halfback Don Timberlake's and end Bill Hammond's touchdowns, fired by Bob Cornell, were to no avail in the season's final attempt. The Knights finished the '55 football campaign with an 8-3 reading.

Northwest Knights completed their '55-'56 schedule with a 16-12 record. Winning three to one is a hopping good average when we consider our Knights had no gym facilities for practice sessions until the season was well under way.

Biggest thrill of the season was dropping highly regarded Capitol Hill in the first year of knighthood. Thus was set up what will probably come to be the hottest rivalry between City schools in future years.

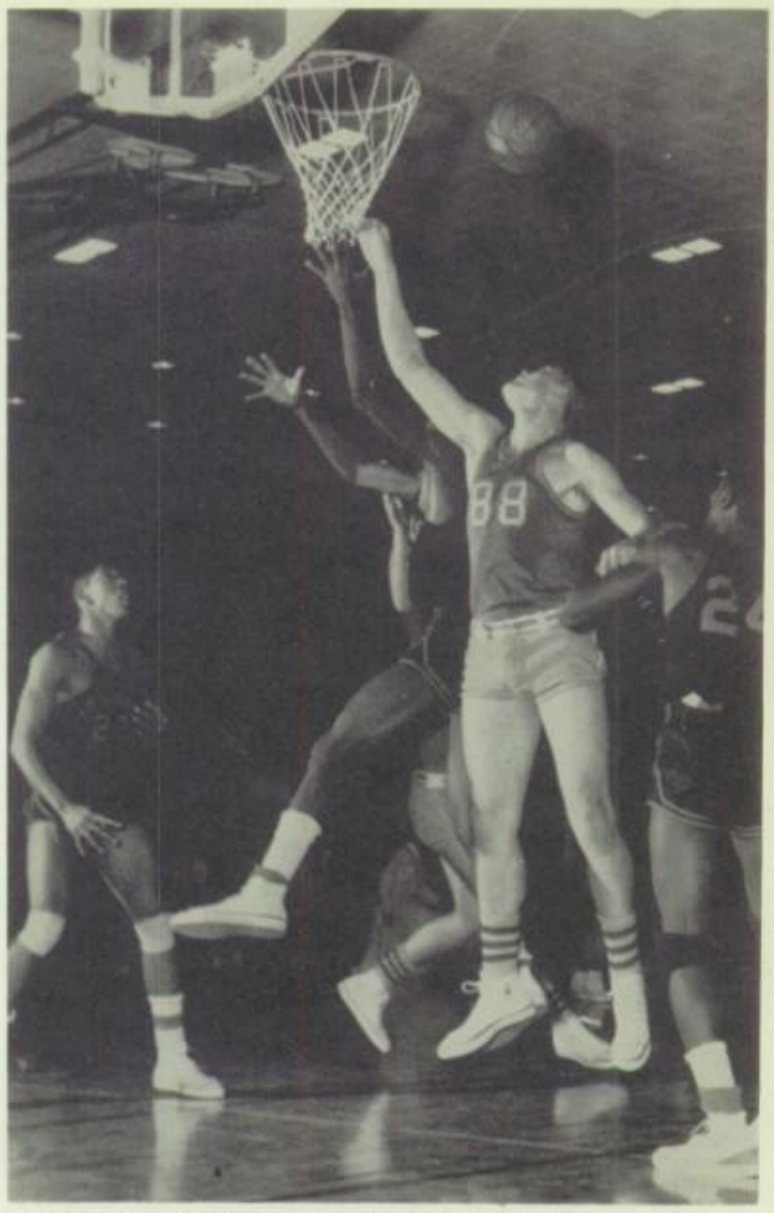
The Knights also toppled the Negro State Champions, Douglass, not just once, but twice. Douglass was stiff competition but tumbled 51-50 and 48-46.

A trophy was added to our growing collection as outcome of the Enid Tourney when the Knights brought home third place. They shared the bill with Ponca City and Sand Springs, leveling off with two scores of 54.

On their home court in the Northwest Festival the Knights captured top spot. Invited to the Woodward Festival the Northwest crew brought home their opponents' scalps.

In Regionals at the Capitol Hill Sports Arena, Northwest absorbed a runner-up berth.

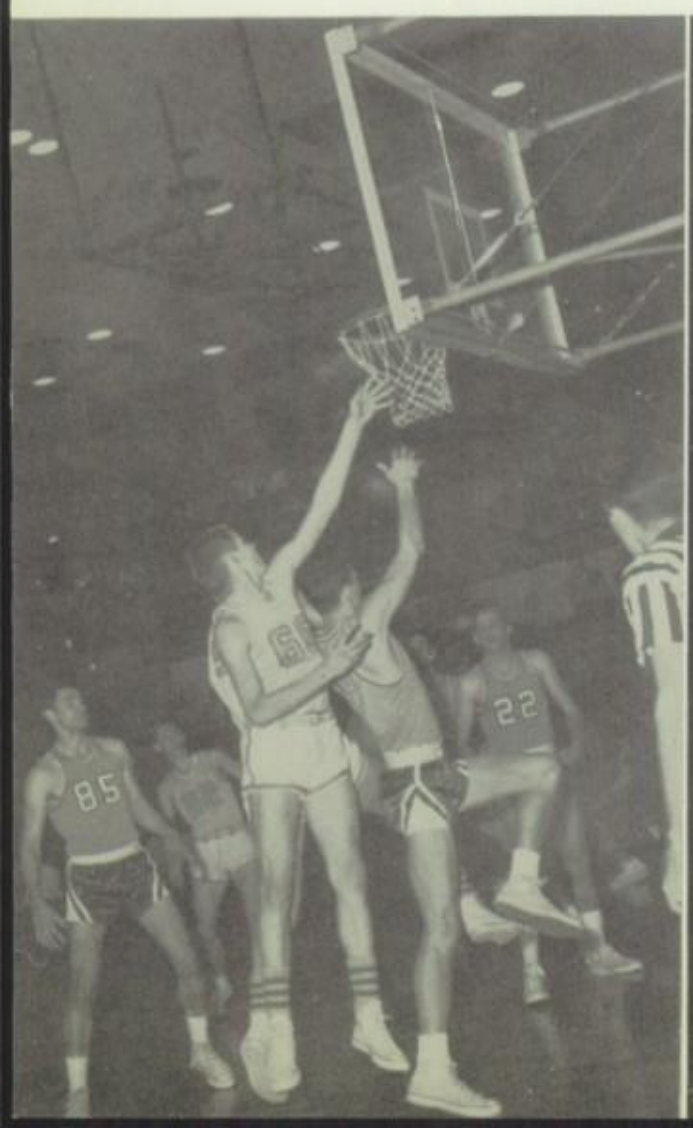
In competition within Oklahoma City high school teams the Knights came off with eleven wins in fourteen contests. For a first year record of a pioneering team, they established a fine reputation, and one for future teams to aspire to maintain.



Bill Hammond (88) jumps high to bring down a loose ball.

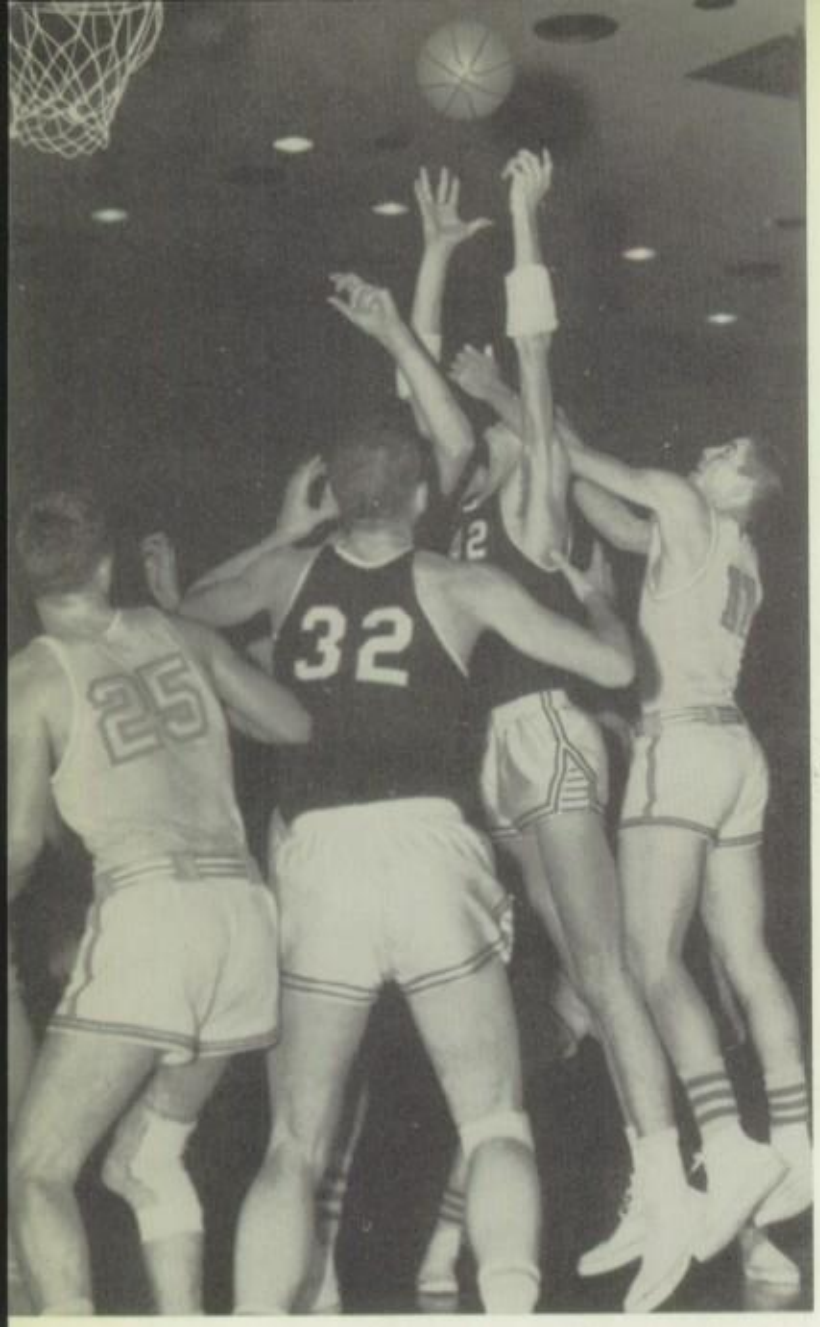
Knight fame, caught flame!

Bob Ramsey (66) attempting for a rebound off the boards.

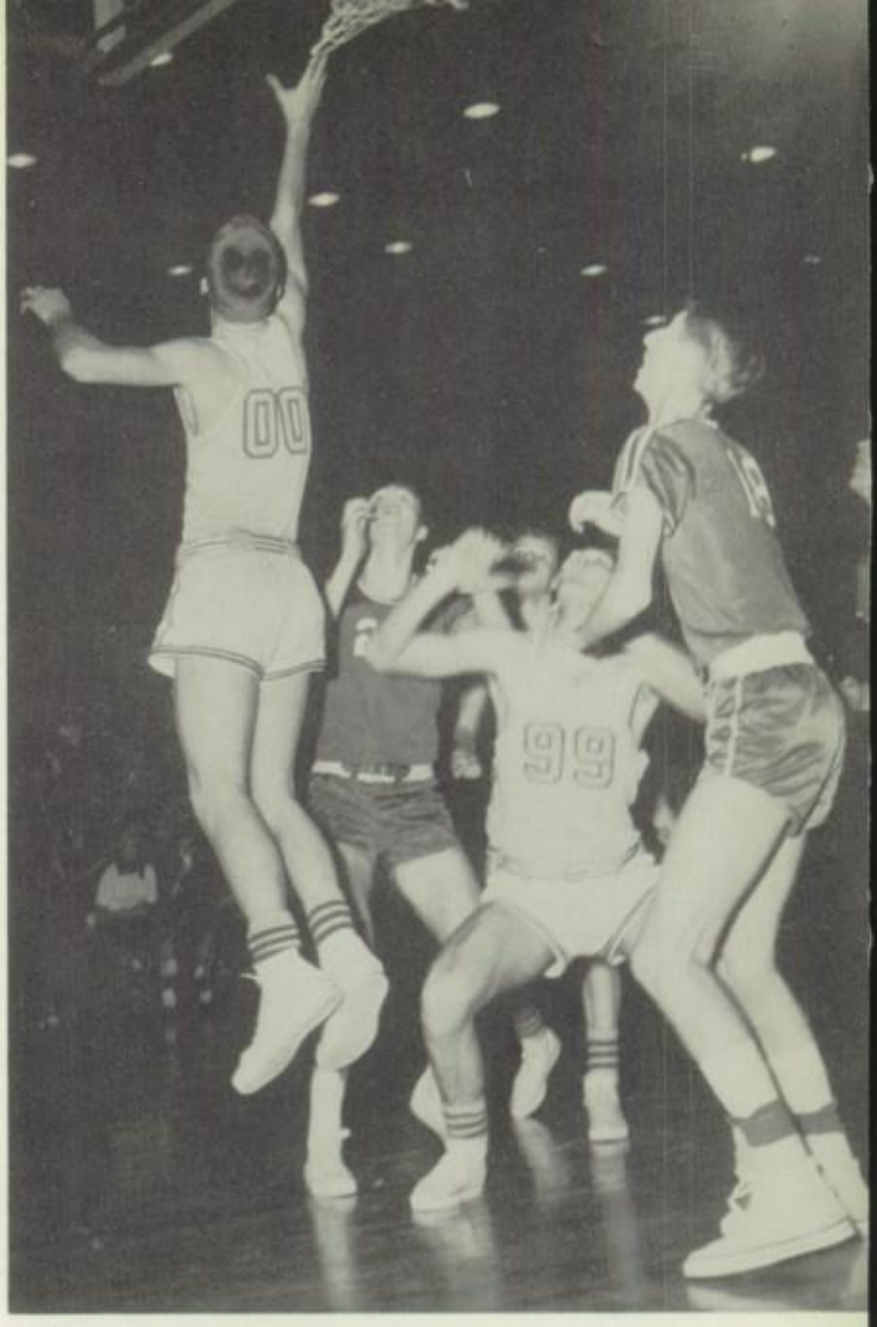


Robert Frost (99) goes high for two points (we hope).

Practicing, what seems to be a one handed pushup, Bob Ramsey (66) seeks a layup.

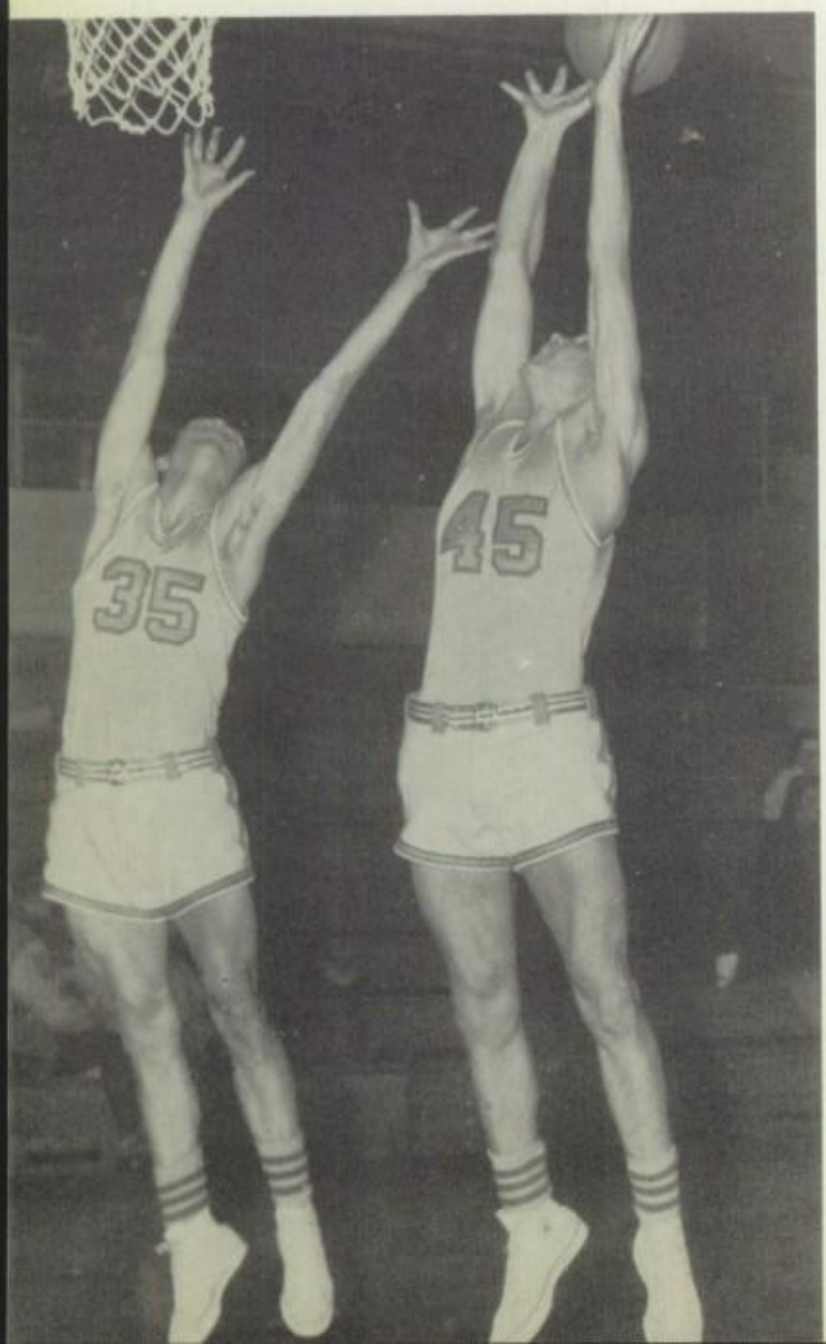


Bob Cornell (11) decides for a Blackwell opponent, "What you can't see you can't touch!"

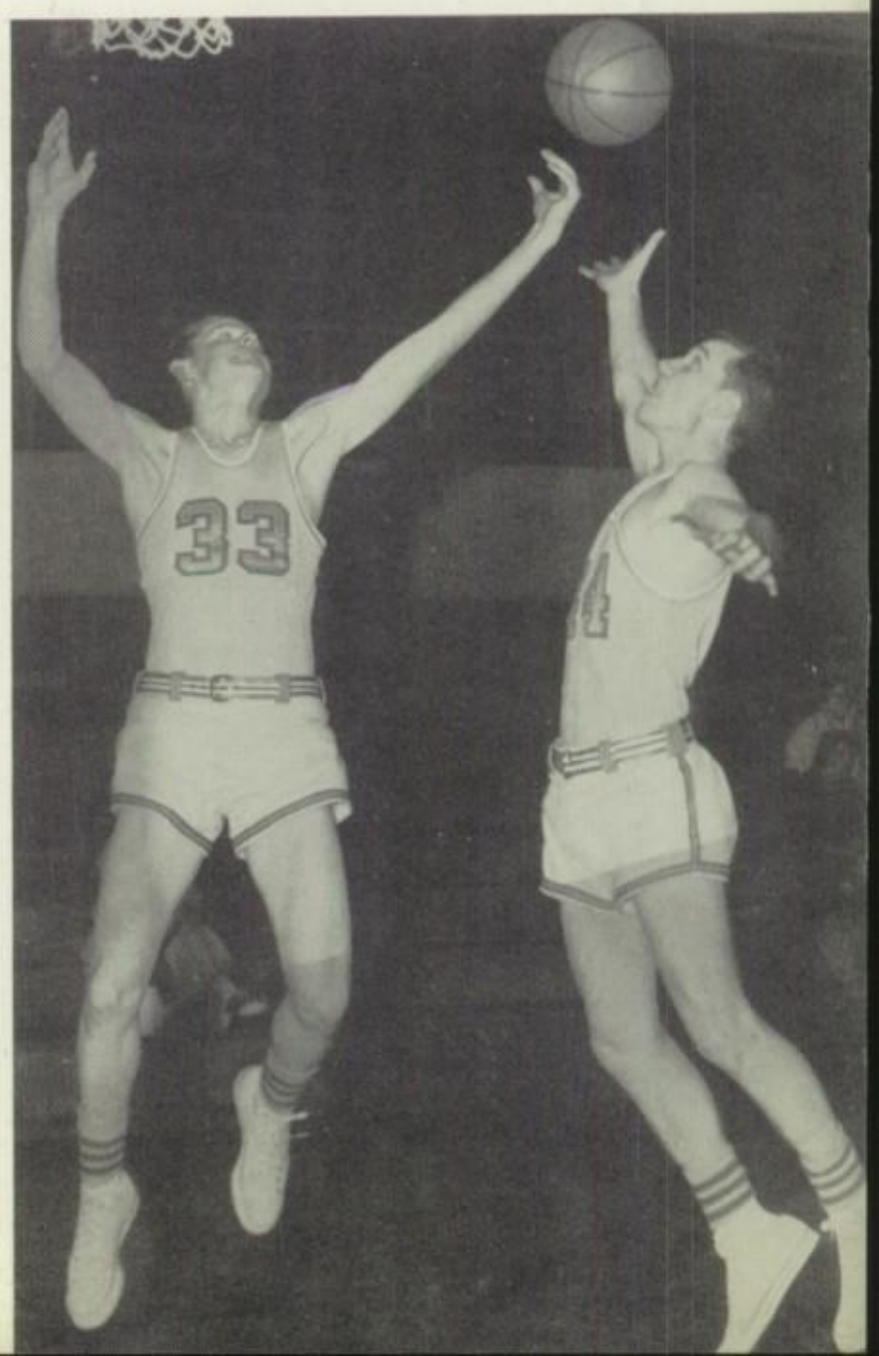


Portraying Tarzan is, (00) Frank Robertson, swinging from the net.

Stretching exercises are demonstrated by Kent Meyers (35) and Larry Garr (45).



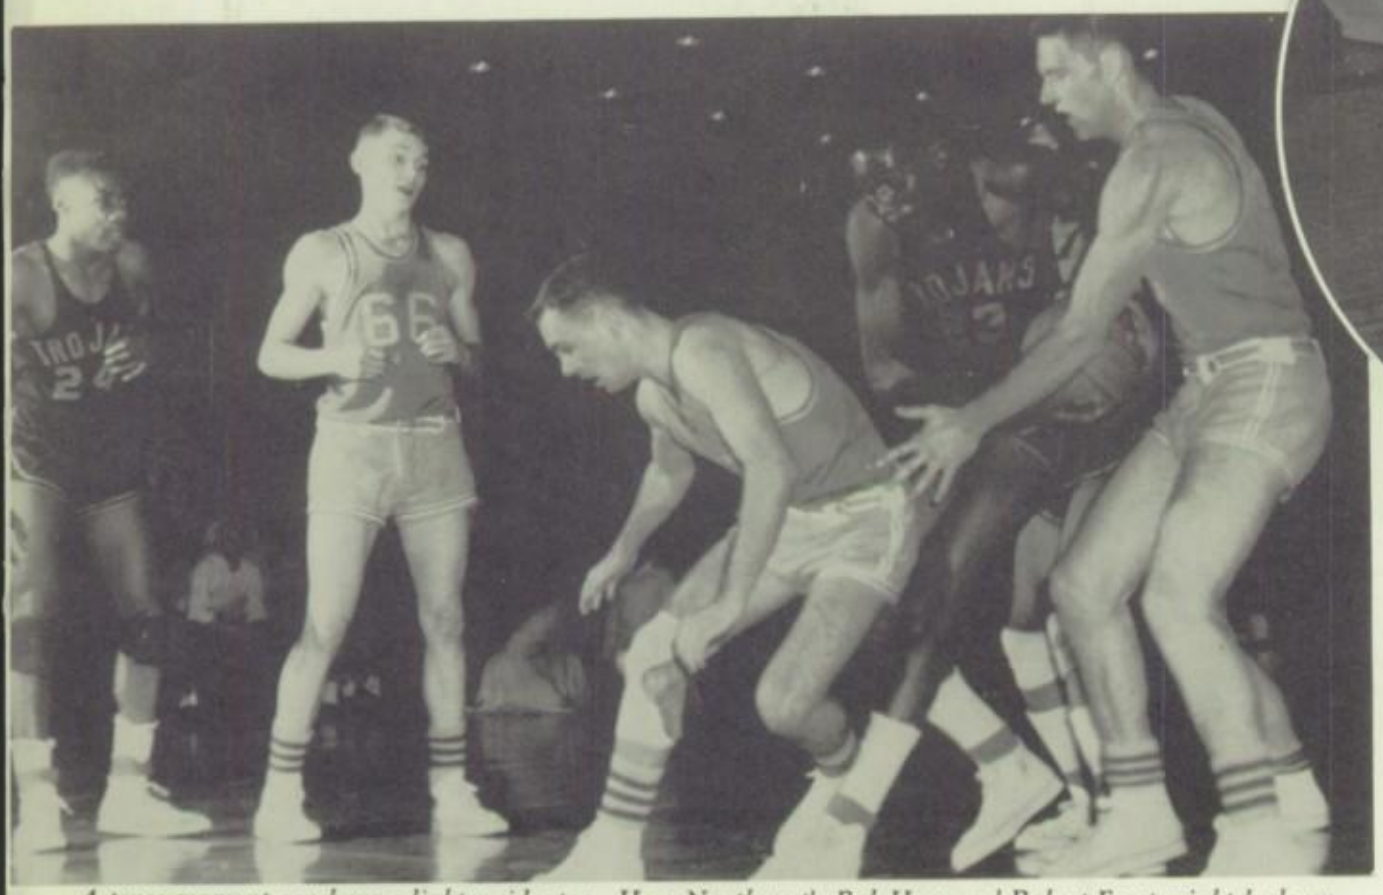
Bill Tracewell (33) blocks (44) Jim Stidham as he tries for a goal in a practice game.



Speed and might made

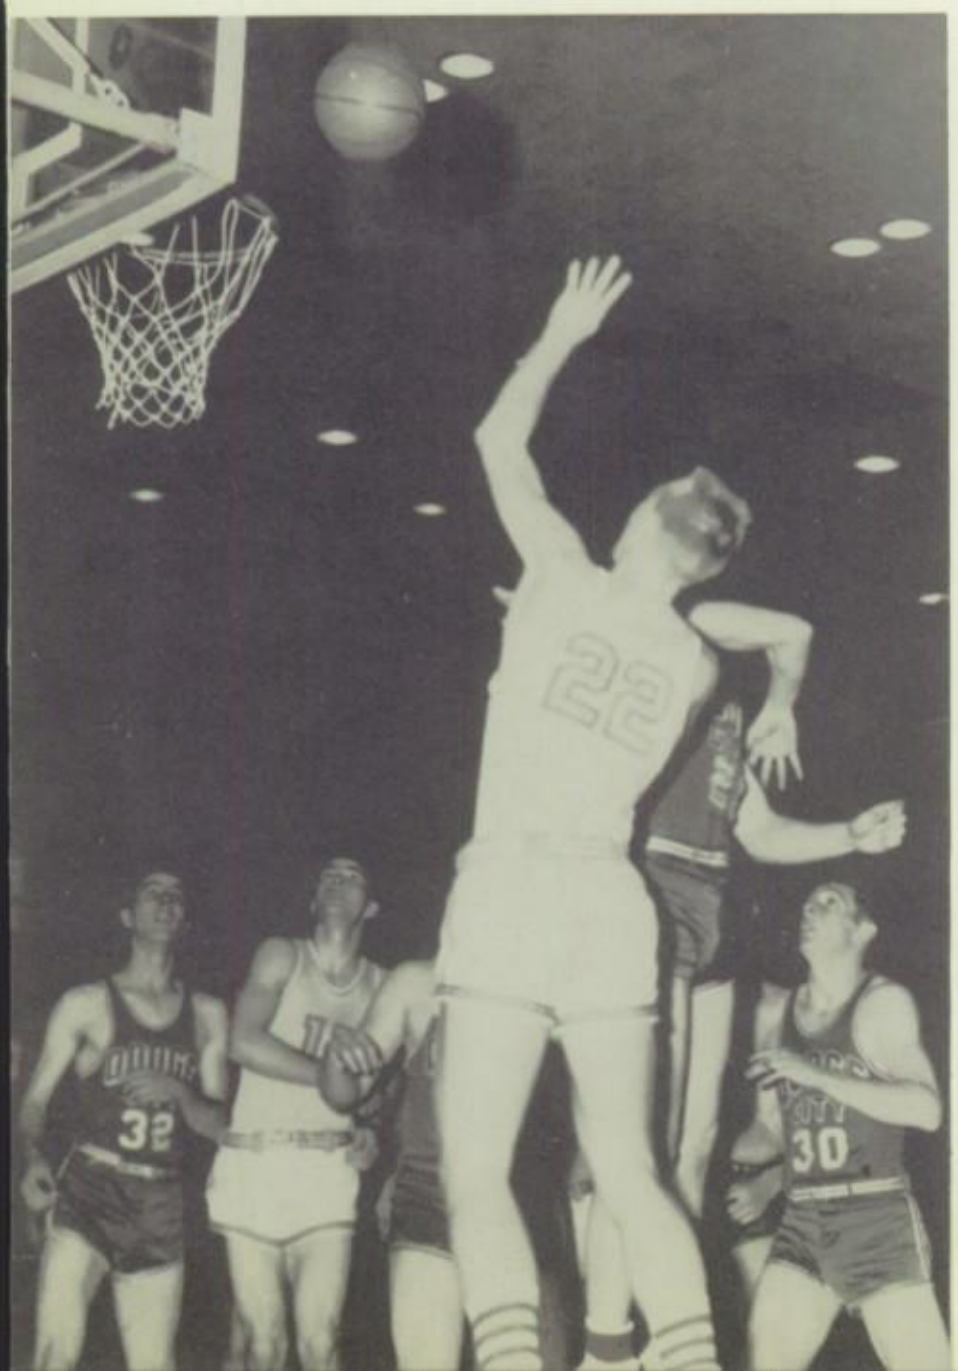
our record

bright!



A tense moment can have a lighter side, too. Here Northwest's Bob Huey and Robert Frost might be learning a new dance to the music of the Douglass jazz band that came along to whoop it up for the Trojans. Bob Ramsey (66) seems to be saying, "Go, man, go!"

Ronnie Skaggs (22) uncorks one of his favorite jump-shots in the game against Dodge City, Kansas.



Terry Hill (38) brings down a rebound in the Dodge City clash.

Northwest's 1956 thinclads displayed unusually good form in winning five meets, dropping one. March 8, they outclassed cross-town rival Capitol Hill, defending Class A Champions, 77 1/3 to 40 2/3.

The second homeground track and field outing, March 16, saw the Knights emerge victor with 68 points, over Northeast's 35, and Putnam City with 21.

Stillwater sponsored a quadrangular meet March 20. Northwest, Ada, and Tulsa Central were invited. The Knights dropped to a fourth place finish. March 23, the Purple and Gold boys bounced back by winning over Central and Harding on their home arena 128-24-15.

March 30, Oklahoma City's first Invitational Meet was held. It included 23 of the finest cinder squads in the state. Racing to five first place and 50 points the Knights easily out-distanced the closest runnerup, Capitol Hill, with 28½ points. Led by Ronnie Hall's 13 points, which included two firsts in the shot put, broad jump and a second place finish in the discus, and Dub Watson's second in the shot put and fourth in the discus the Knights pushed forward by scoring heavily in the field events. Bob Cornell and Paul Meade brought home first place finishes in high and low hurdles. The 880 relay team and the mile relay finished second and first respectively. Frank Cissne showed future possibilities in his third place finish in the mile run.

April 3-4, Northwest track men came from behind to take the City meet. Two records were broken, Dub Watson, NWC's weight man, tossed the shot 51 feet to break the record by one foot. Northwest crack mile relay team lowered the former record of 3:33 to 3:31.5. Runner up for the meet was again Capitol Hill.

Northwest Knights practicing relays for the next oncoming meet.

Bob Cornell and Paul Meade step high for possible state honors.

Up in the air for a try at a new record is senior poleman, Bob Ramsey.

Dub Watson shows his form at the discus throw.

At the State Tourney, February 24, the Knights brought home sixth place.

Tourney winners: Wally Curtis, third at Bristow Tourney, first at the Geary Tourney, first at the Regionals. Record 14-2-1.

Darrell Vincent, third at Bristow Tourney. Record 9-1-0.

Tom Littleton, fourth at Bristow Tourney. Record 7-2-1.

Bill Martin, fourth at Bristow Tourney, third at Geary. Record 10-4-0.

Jack Noftsger, second at Bristow Tourney, first at Geary, first at Regional, first in the State Meet. Record 15-1-2.

Jack Noftsger, senior, shows style by downing his opponent.

Baseball

Coach Clay Davis faced the job of rebuilding a team, but came out in fine fashion as the Knights baseball team stood at 4-0, at press deadline, with impressive victories over Northeast 2-1, Douglass 13-1, Enid 6-3, and Central 3-2.

Northwest hitting department is headed by Kenny Burke, senior outfield, transfer letterman, with a .400 batting average. Leading pitcher on the mound is Paul Corter, credited with two wins.

Row 1— Coach, Caroll Smelser, Nokes, McDaniel, Swan, Savegs, Sharp, Nay, Dusek, McCann. Row 2—Sorensen, Glasser, Loy, Hill, Butterworth.

Golf coach, Mr. Carroll Smelser, and his NWC team were making ready for travel to Amarillo for the Tri-State match April 13-14, 1956.

Making up this year's team are one returning letterman, Jimmy Loy, Victor Hill, Jim Butterworth and Larry Savage.

Jim Loy last year played on the Classen team which came out first in the City and Midstate and runner-up to Duncan high school, Duncan, Oklahoma, state champions.

Golf opens iwth a City Round Robin in which eight City high schools compete. At press time Northwest Classen's Knights had met four teams and held four victories.

May 1 they will enter Mid-state matches at Enid and the following week-end will play in State Tournament, Lincoln Park, Oklahoma City.

At press time there is a battle royal being waged between Glen Creps and Richard Crisler, ranking fifth and sixth spots, for a coveted fourth place position, or a team berth.

Jimmy Loy, number one linkman, sizes up his shot and finishes with a practice swing.

Checking the condition of his club before going into action is senior, Larry Savage.

Northwest tank team placed eighth at Norman in the State swim meet. March 16 Casady girls' swim team nosed the fem Knights out of the first place spot by 2½ points. Team captain for Northwest was Jan Hixon. Girls placing in the State meet are as follows: 100 yd. Free Style—First Place—Carol Cox, Mary Joan Perkins, Karen Thornton, and Carol Tyler. Medley Relay—First Place—Ellen Booth, Betty Thomas, Carol Tyler.

Synchronized Swimming—Second Place—Jan Hixon, Third Place—Terry Mann.

Diving—Second Place—Donna Jackson. Fourth Place, Marcia McElderry.

75 yd. Individual Medley—Fourth Place—Karen Thornton.

100 yd. Free Style—Fifth Place—Karen Thornton.

25 yd. Breast Stroke—Third Place—Carol Tyler.

100 yd. Back Stroke—Third—Ellen Booth.

25 yd. Back Stroke—Fourth—Ellen Booth.

50 yd. Free Style—Fifth—Mary Joan Perkins.

Mr. Robert Curry, coach, Barlow, Day, Brougher, Burch, Tuma, Stout.

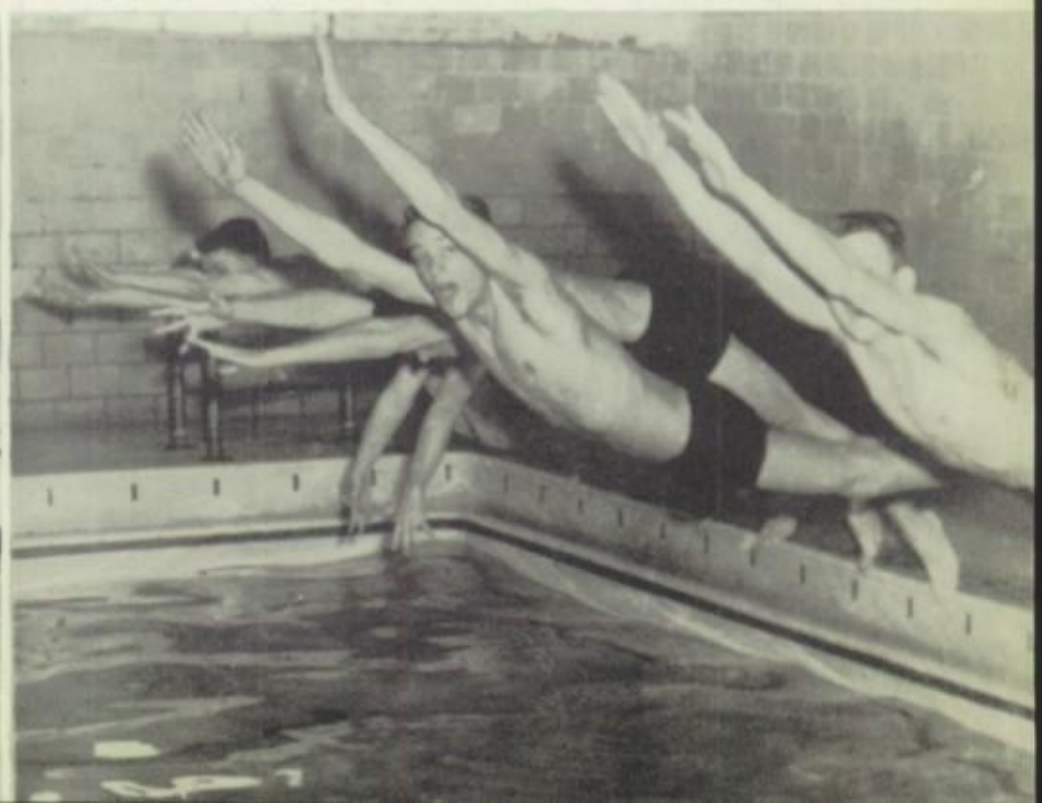
Preparing for a state meet, these Knights show their style of diving.



Miss Nona Cowan, coach; Gardner, Stewart, Stuemky, McElderry, Wendorff, Kearney. Row 2–Thompson, Standeven, Reynolds, Hayes, Arnold, Morris.

Volleyball, basketball and badminton are popular sports that afford girls fun, exercise and competition. Without a girls' gym this year the volleyball team came through with a 4-2 record. Wins were Harding, 31-21; John Marshall, 25-23; Classen, 41-10; Northeast, 28-26. They lost to Southeast, 31-19; and Capitol Hill, 30-21.

Lehmer, Rhodes. Row 2–Hayes, Wade, Watson, Kerr, Chamberlain.

Northwest's Lady roundballers, counterpart of our Knight roundball crew, shoved through a full schedule of All-city matches. They won hard fought victories over U. S. Grant and Central. Their remaining schedule shows five contests:

February 21	Douglass	At NWCHS
February 24	Harding	At NWCHS
February 28	Southeast	At SEHS
March 2	Capitol Hill	AT CHHS
March 9	John Marshall	AT NWCHS

Badminton Schedule

April 9-11	City-wide Tournament
April 20-21	Ponca City Tournament
April 27-28	A&M Tournament

Row 1–Standeven, Priddy, Paine, Thompson, Vandemeer, Kearney, Arnold, Hayes. Row 2–Miss Nona Cowan, coach, Gardner, Stuemky, Stewart, McElderry, Wendorff, McCormick, McClain, Morris.

There's never a dull season in the physical education department. If it isn't one sport, it's another. In addition to competitive sports with neighboring schools, there's the intra-mural contests. These invite, and get, near all-student participation.

With completion of a girl's gym and other physical education facilities Northwest Classen can enjoy one of the fullest P.E. programs of any school in the Southwest.

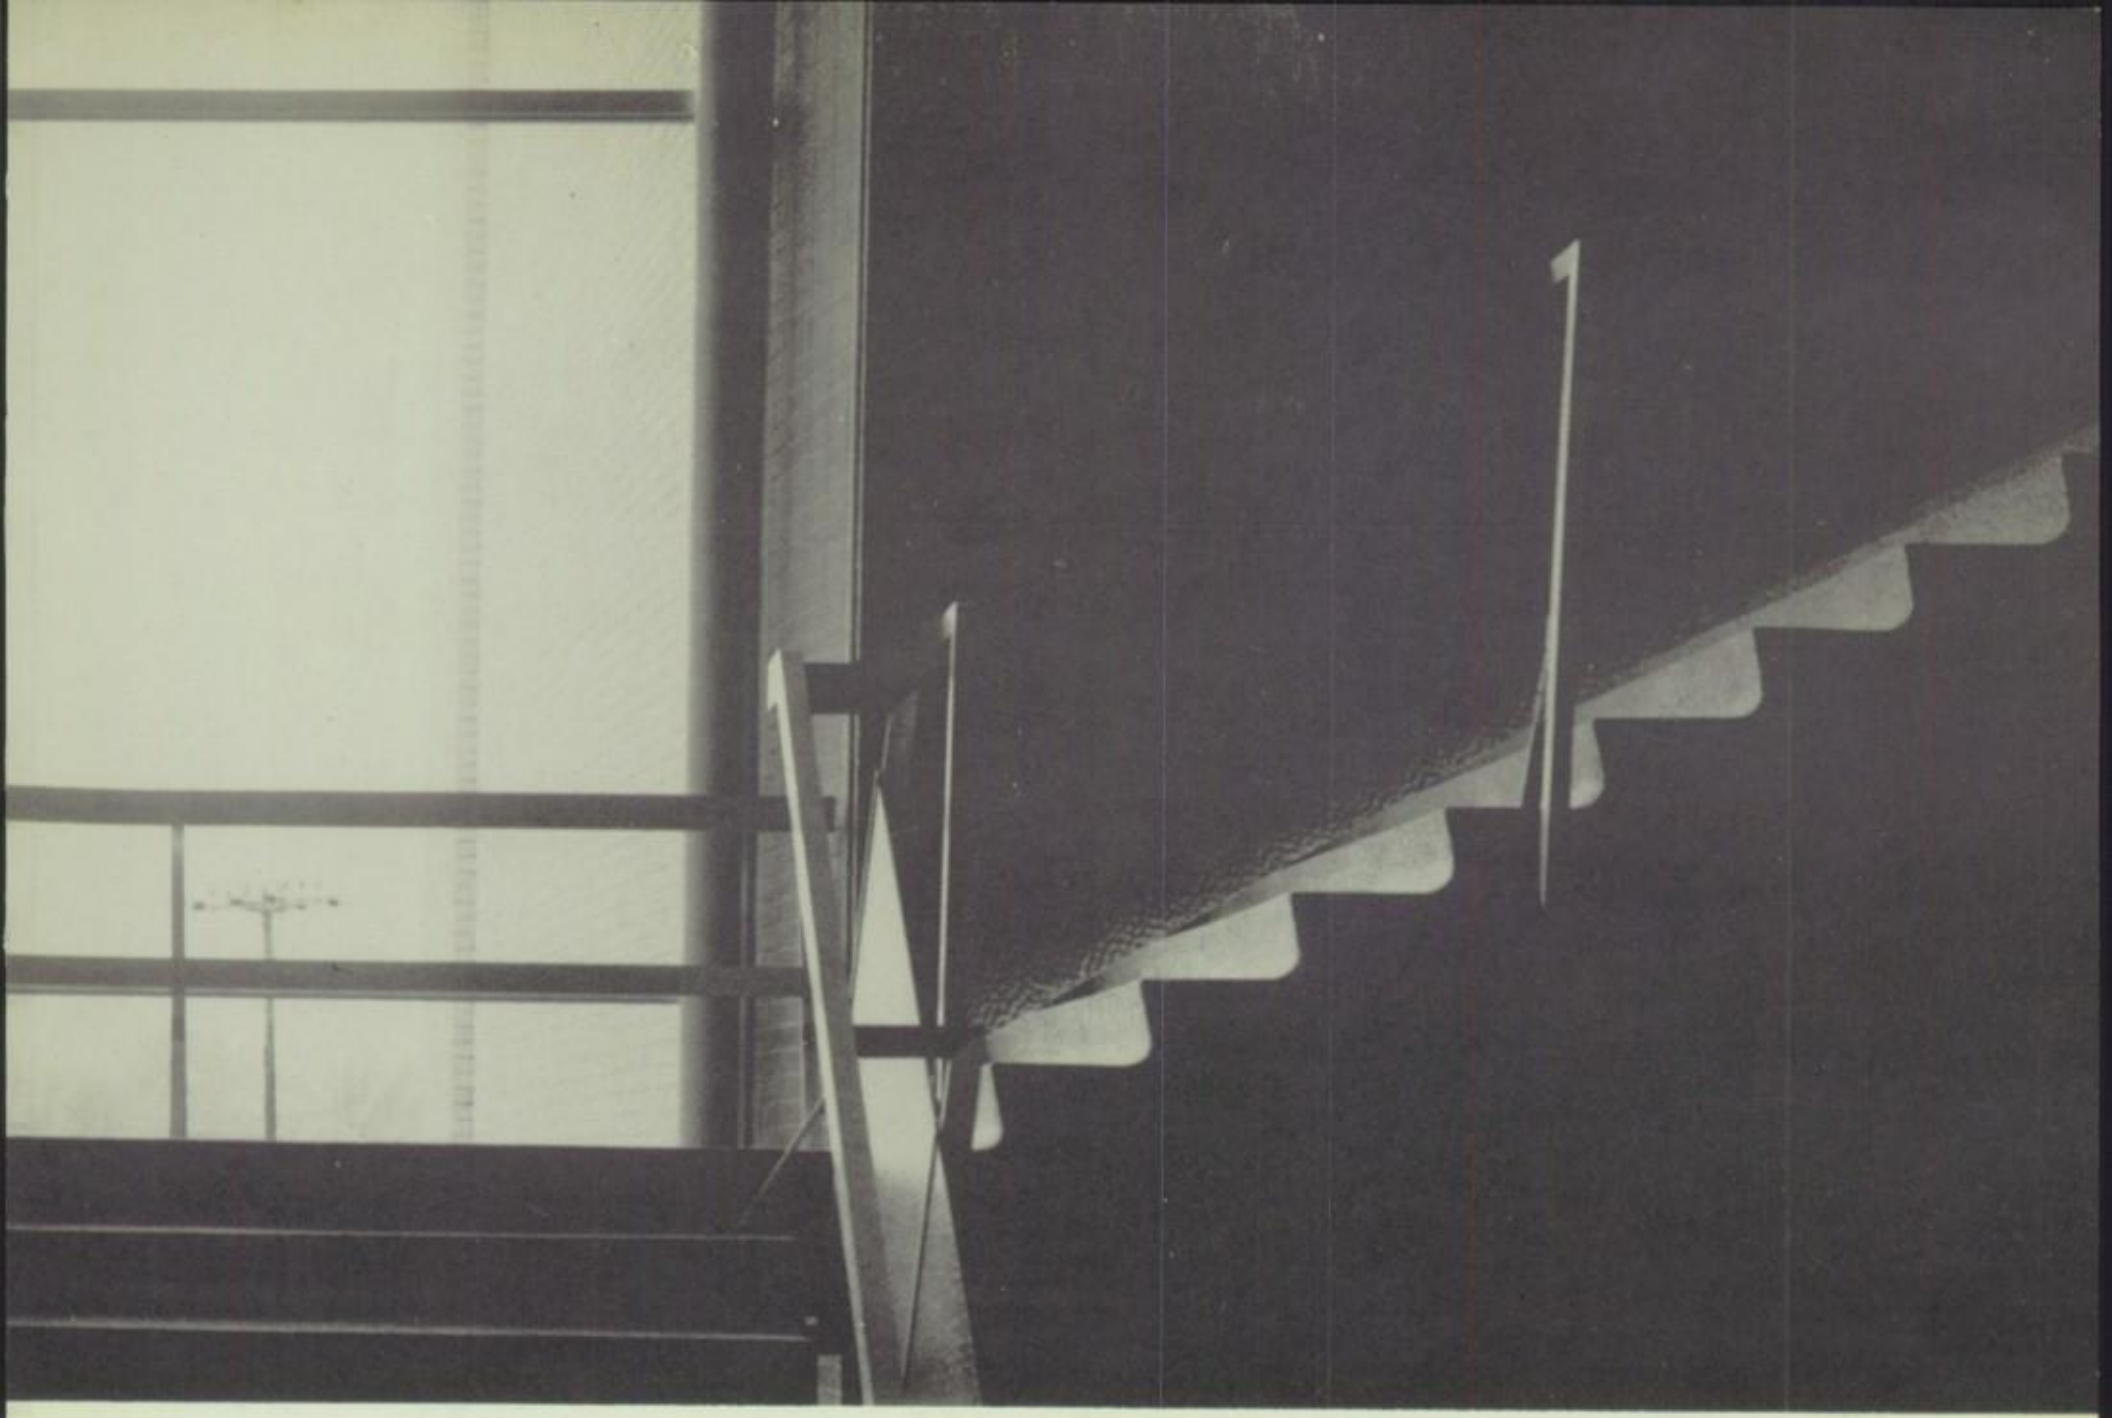
Northwest Ladies softball aggregation vies with Northwest Knight athletes in spirit and punch. With their first season's contests still in the offing a bit of crystal gazing calls the City-wide Champions title a cinch. Row 1– Priddy, Paine, Thompson, Vandemeer, Arnold, Hayes, Miss Nona Cowan, coach. Row 2– Gardner, Stuemky, McElderry, Wendorff, Kearney, Morris.

Senior pitcher, Mike Stewart, warms up before that all-important game with Northeast.

Tom Littleton gets 'em down and holds 'em there.

The boy's gym was completed in time for basketball season and was a focal point for many of the activities of this first year of getting started.

STUDENT LIFE



A pause midway on the front stairway is tempting on a trip between classes. Ann Hayes and Tommy Dyer stop to see how well the posies are doing in the enclosed garden beside the stair.

What will you remember of your first year at our new school? After those mixed-up, first few weeks, heaven knows we were beginning to wonder whether we would ever have just ordinary school. But after confusion,—calm.

We got in the groove and point proudly to an array of trophies garnered by efforts of sports and speech, as well as other awards and recognitions in other departments.

Isn't it nice that our Creator endowed us with the power to remember only the happy moments? That first mixer was a hit. Will we ever forget that crazy "RED RICE"? And those outdoor pep assemblies; even CSS assemblies. Different anyway, weren't they? Then we got into the gym!!! Glory be, we made the rafters ring. No scenery, but we had a roof. Then that first real assembly in our magnificent auditorium we'd waited for.

And THE CLASSICS of '56; "Crossroads, USA," set a precedent. We are eager for completion of the building, but we are already sure we have the best school anywhere.

Classen Awards

The CLASSEN MEDAL of HONOR, established by the late Mr. Anton H. Classen for students of the high school named in his honor, are shared this year between the original Classen High School and Northwest Classen High School. The medal is presented to a boy and a girl member of the senior class, who according to the rules of the award, "gives the greatest promise of worthy contribution to the progress of the world by reason of strength of character, record of scholarship, activities of leadership and all-around achievements."

CLASSEN AWARDS are given on the basis of recognition of outstanding scholarship.

FACULTY AWARDS, originated this first year by the faculty of NORTHWEST CLASSEN HIGH SCHOOL, represent the highest achievements in leadership, service and character of members of the senior class. Scholarship is a primary consideration in deciding awards, but a student with outstanding leadership, and superior citizenship and service to his school and fellow students, may have a high B average and yet be eligible for a faculty award.

As the years progress it is the feeling among faculty members that a faculty award can become the highest recognition available to Northwest Classen students.

'55 S. C. Presidential Candidates

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Dale Crabtree, parliamentarian; Ann Robertson, secretary; Frank Robertson, vice-president; Kenny Burke, treasurer.

Yes, we've come a long way this year. We've laughed together and we've cried together; we've loved each other; we've had our share of successes, and, of course, there have been failures. When we look back, and think about it, it seems almost unreal.

It hasn't been easy, but the rumblings of discontent are merely growing pains. In after years we will measure our happiness here by how much we grew here, how much we contributed toward what, we believe, will become this city's outstanding high school.

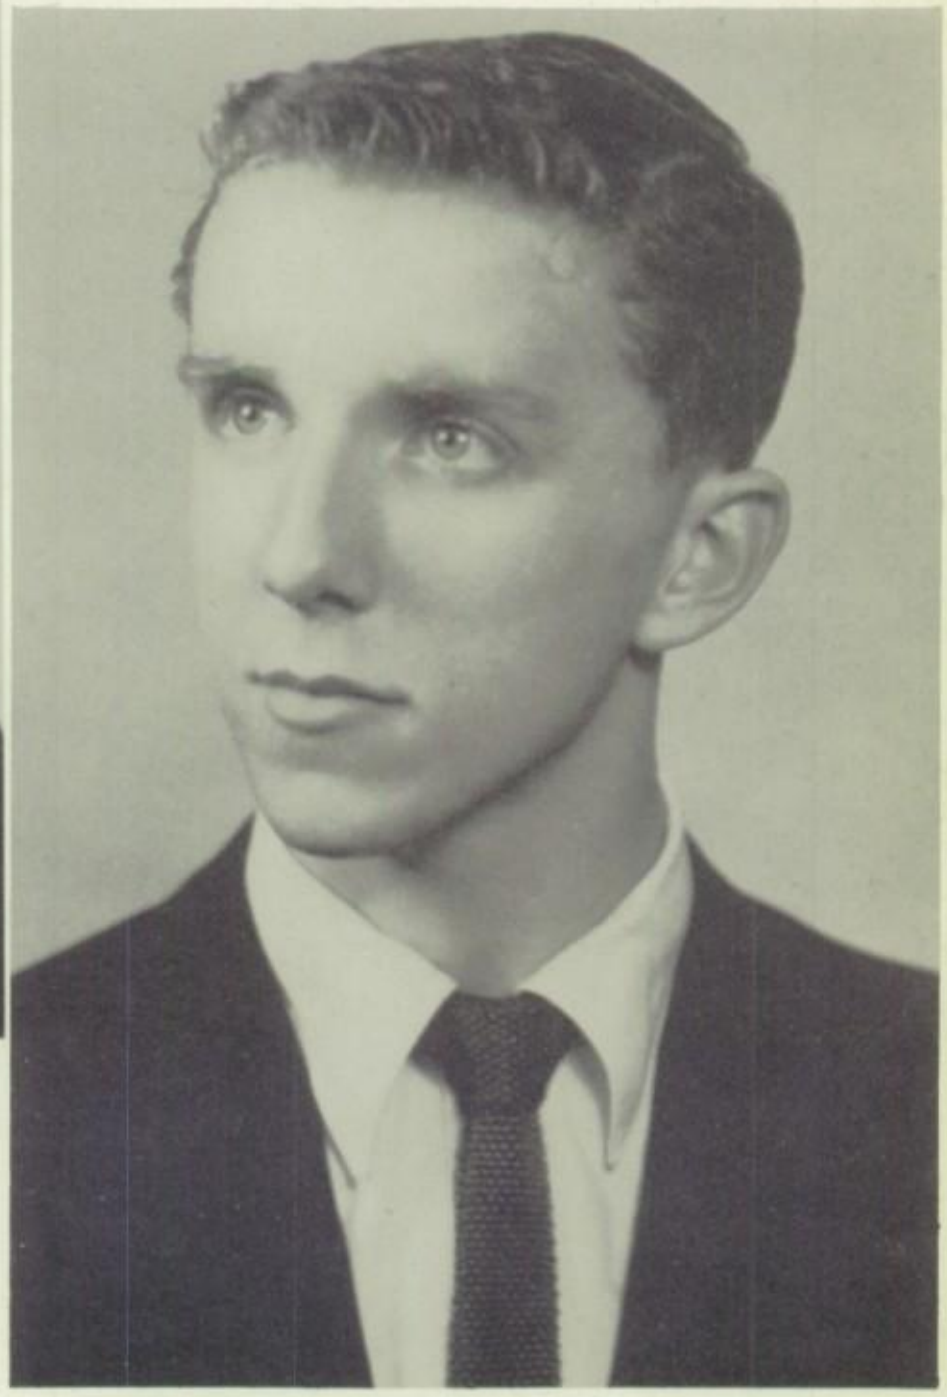
We created a heart and a soul for our alma mater. The task now is to make that heart beat and that soul expand.

This is your challenge, sophomores and juniors. And you can do it, if you work together for the good of the whole. "The whole is equal to the sum of its parts;"—how big a part are you?

Sincerely,
Sarah Jones '56

Prince and Princess of Friendship

SHERRY McFALL



LARRY BLEDSOE

Prince and Princess of Friendship is an annual election sponsored by the Student Council. Each year a week is set aside for friendship emphasis. Activities culminate with an assembly. Friendship rings were presented to the Princess, Sherry McFall, and Prince, Larry Bledsoe.

Nanci-Ames Early, Patty Farmer, Barbara Mitchell, Bobette Watson, Kenny Burke, Dale Crabtree, Kent Meyers and Buzz McDaniel were 1956 nominees.

BETTY BOWLES

Round Table Queen

Knights of the Round Table elected Betty Bowles their first yearbook queen. Sponsored by the journalism department the selection is looked upon as one of the highest honors awarded at Northwest Classen.

Nominations are made in advisories. Students vote for their choice of candidates when they make their yearbook purchase. Tags, poster parties and open houses highlight the campaign week. The 1956 candidates were Betty Bowles, Patty Farmer, Barbara Mitchell, Bobby Reynolds and Bobette Watson.

Sports Queen

A week of riproaring campaigning, posters, rallies, parties, politickin', tact and tangles, to say nothing of glamour, concluded with Donna Saulsberry emerging with the title of first All Sports Queen.

Coronation ceremonies in the gym October 20, 1955 marked the first coronation held at our school. Princesses Patty Farmer, baseball; Polly Ishmael, football; Barbara Mitchell, track; and Peggy Ramsey, basketball, were introduced; Dub Watson did the coronation honors and presented Donna a white jacket bearing our school emblem in purple and gold.

DONNA SAULSBERRY

JUDY HAYDEN
Lancer Queen

LANCERS PEP CLUB named Judy Hayden to the position of royal lady of their order at a Christmas time formal given in honor of their candidates and queen.

Judy, member of the Honor Society and a straight A student, was selected from a field of five honorees, Ellen Booth, Connie Greenhaw, Joan Harris, Judy, and Carole Walker. Honorees were Judy's attendants at the cornation ceremony which highlighted the evening events.

Bob Burrus,club president did the honors and presented the queen a white orlon coat bearing the club insignia, the queens name and the date of the year in which she presided, along with a white orchid and the club's mace as an ensign of her authority to rule.

JOYCE WALLACE
Proctor Queen

Joyce Wallace, '56 PROCTOR queen, is a bowling enthusiast. She received three player awards, high average; high game; and high series. Joyce also does professional modelling for retail stores and TV style shows. Her hobby is Jimbo, her pet monkey.

Proctor candidates were Sally Fle ming, Jeanette Mager, Carole Walker, Joyce, Mary Lou Werme and Pat Williams.

Coronation festivities featured a dance at Kiwanis Youth Center, Memorial Park. Buddy Batten presented Joyce an orlon coat bearing appropriate insignia. All candidates received corsages.

Joyce Collins was the second queen honored in this year's array of queens at Northwest. It had been the custom among the boys who are now the FALCON PEP CLUB to name their queen at a Thanksgiving formal. There was no logical reason why this tradition should be abandoned or revised. Accordingly, members nominated their five candidates, Joyce Collins, Anita Dyer, Patty Farmer, Polly Ishmael and Barbara Mitchell in time for Thanksgiving festivities.

When members ballots were counted Joyce had won the place of honor. Her coronation featured the Falcons' Thanksgiving social. The nominees entertained Falcon members with a sports social.

The idea of the student newspaper sponsoring a TOP-TEEN contest came with us from our old stand. Purpose behind the competition was to have a contest that was open to all with one boy and one girl from each class emerging victor without benefit of campaign fanfare. It also provides sophomores and juniors an opportunity for recognition. Whether we have outgrown the need of this particular contest is one of the many matters in the hopper for students ot decide in the coming school year.

Nanci-Ames Early, '55 American Field Service exchange student, and Frank Robertson, Student Council vice-president, were named Top-Teens of the senior class.

Senior runners-up were Ann Robertson, Barbara Mitchell, Betty Bowles, Bobette Watson, Ken Burke, Dale Crabtree, Larry Bledsoe and Ken Aldrich.

Junior class Top Teens are Mike Brandon and Julia Dorr. Mike does outstanding work in the speech department. Julia is a cheerleader. She is studying ballet.

Close on the heels of the winners were Sally Dunaway, Margaret Simon, Kay Ellison, Carolyn Messenger, Mary Beth Baker, boys Eric Sorenson, Wade McAlister, Richard Crisler and Randy Robins.

Jim Smelser active in sports, and Jeanne Gonders, asset to Classics, are Top-Teens among the sophomores. Here they try out our new hi-fi player in the student lounge. Other top sophomore girls are Janie McIntosh, Carole Sue Sutton, Cheryl Corken and Jeanne Ann Jacobson; boys are Joe Groseclose, Jim Clark, Irving Faught and Charles Doughty.

Really it was all in fun on Western day. Mr. Davis and Mr. Irwin had only blank caps.

You can crawl under, climb over – or cut through, (sh-h-h), when our gang gets together for one of those early morning or noon time pow-wows.

Sharon Book and Carol Childress model regalia typical of Nor'westers on Western day.

Customers in the Student Store aren't always this agreeable.

Exotic table decorations were prepared by students in the Round Table art class, during dull moments, for the PTA-Faculty springtime dinner.

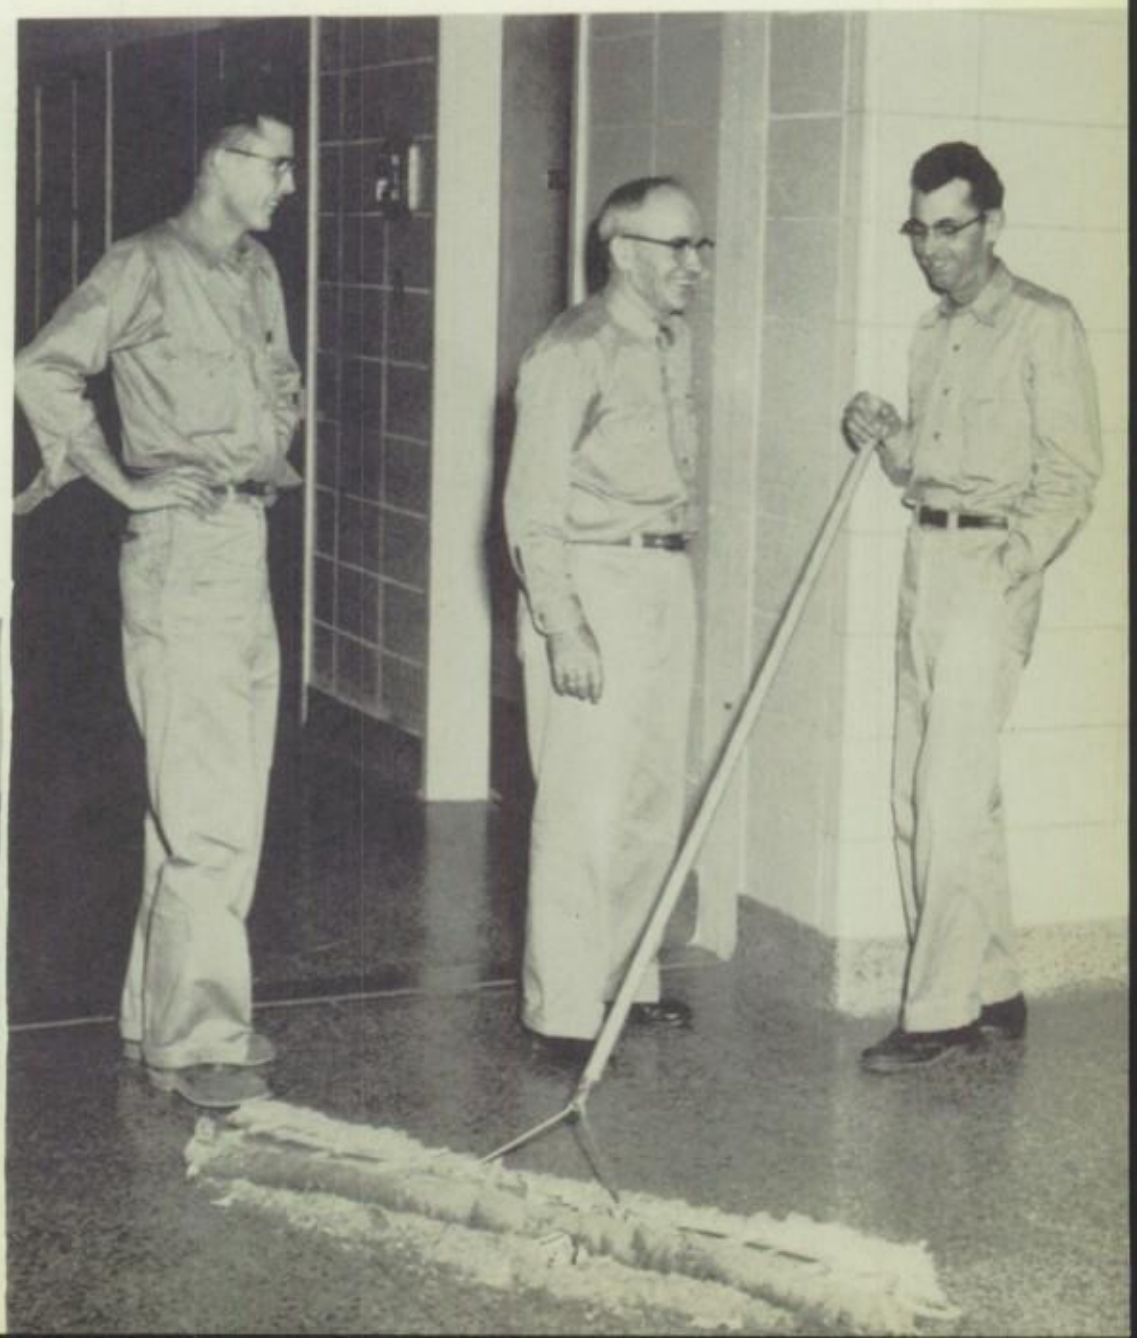
Patience and precision pay off in designing metal work art projects.

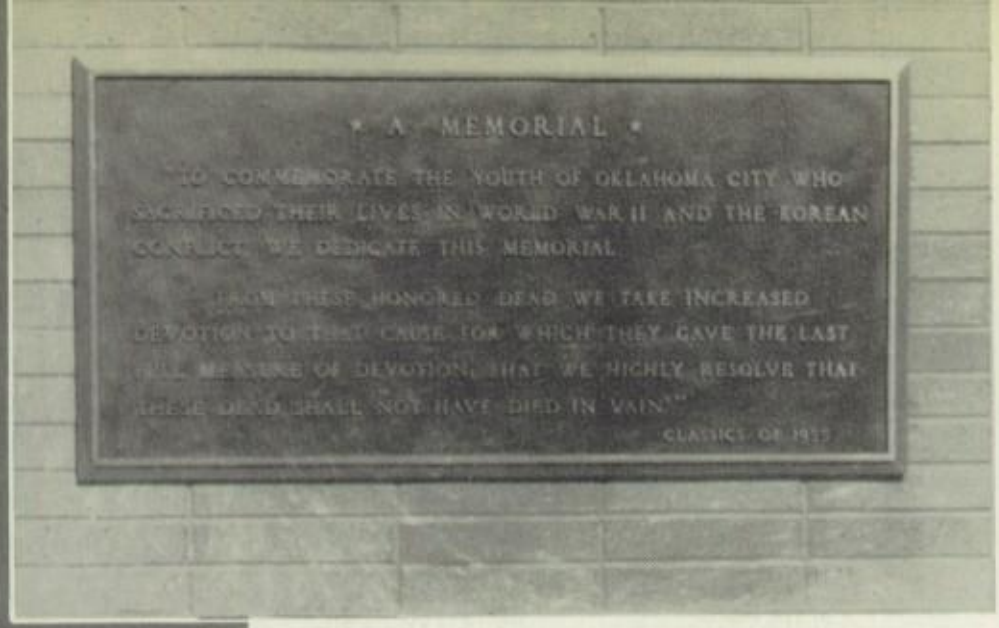
Mr. George Brucher, boys counselor and some of his boys took a trip to Pensacola, Florida to visit the naval base there. Here they discuss plans.

This message and "OFF LIMITS" signs confronted us frequently on our rounds, popping up in various places as our plant grew from day-to-day.

Life around school wouldn't be the same without Mr. Ivan Beeson and his boys keeping things spic-an-span.

Choosing colors for our school was a vital decision of this year. Selections were displayed in the Student Council window where all could study them before voting.





* A MEMORIAL *
TO COMMEMORATE THE YOUTH OF OKLAHOMA CITY WHO SACRIFICED THEIR LIVES IN WORLD WAR II AND THE KOREAN CONFLICT WE DEDICATE THIS MEMORIAL
FROM THESE HONORED DEAD WE TAKE INCREASED DEVOTION TO THAT CAUSE FOR WHICH THEY GAVE THE LAST FULL MEASURE OF DEVOTION. THAT WE HIGHLY RESOLVE THAT THESE DEAD SHALL NOT HAVE DIED IN VAIN"
CLASSICS OF 1955

Tribrute to Youth

Probably the most inspirational experience in the lives of Northwest Classenites in this first year was the unique opportunity of participating in the ceremony that dedicated our 75 foot flag pole, topped with its magnificent golden eagle weathervane.

The message of Congressman John Jarman brought a challenge to hold our standards high. But the memory all will cherish is the moment when old Glory unfurled, cast a brief shadow on the ground hallowed to the memory of student comrades who gave their lives in the Korean conflict and in World War II that we might live in the quietness of peace and freedom from fear.

Reverently the student body hears a benediction at the close of the flag and flagpole dedication ceremonies.

Charles Fryer, Kaye Ferguson, Kay Ellison and Lloyd Johnson selected to apply for American Field Service. European exchange students talk with Guy Poizat about Belgium. Vic Hill, Nanci-Ames Early, Ken Aldrich, Pat Shubert often meet to talk about their summer in Europe. Germany was called "home" by Vic, Ken, and Pat. Nanci toured Holland.

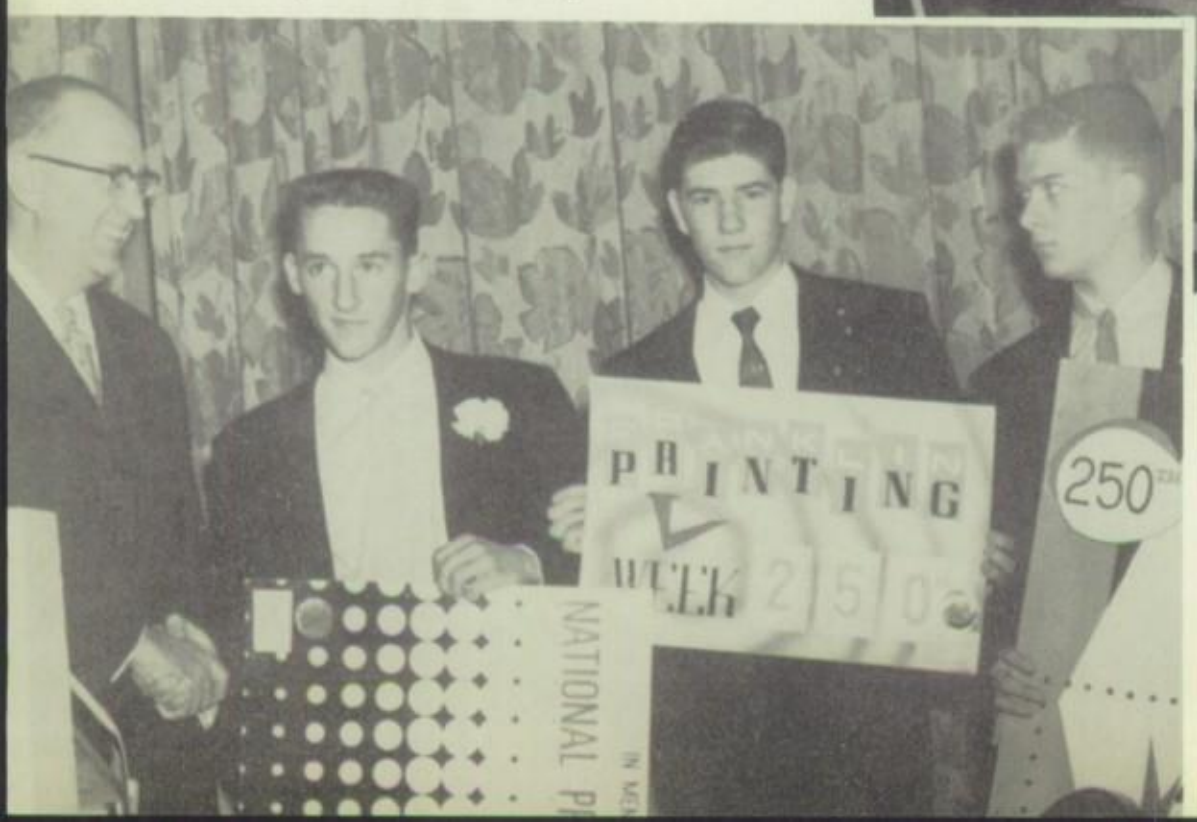
Every four years the Oklahoma City board of education sponsors mock Republican and Democratic conventions that gain teenagers favorable publicity.

Important to every student is how his school looks to others. To cement good will and enhance public relations, while interpreting, "the way we do it," many students engage in activities that afford opportunities to reach and teach others. Foreign exchange students give and get ideas in Europe. City wide political conventions give an impression of what a united effort can mean.

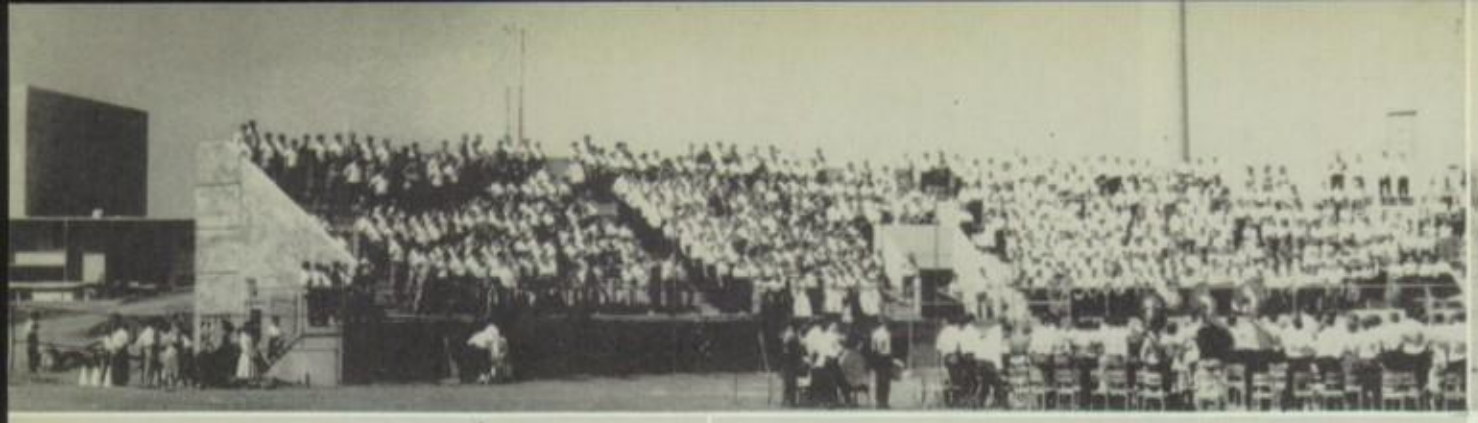
Once a month staff members of student publications, with their sponsors, meet to eat, discuss and listen to experts. The group feels that many of the ideas introduced here have found their way into building better and stronger feeling of solidarity among students of city high schools.

Participation in nation, state and city wide competition aids, too, in carrying our fair name far. Good will ambassadoring is a serious business among Northwest's Knights.

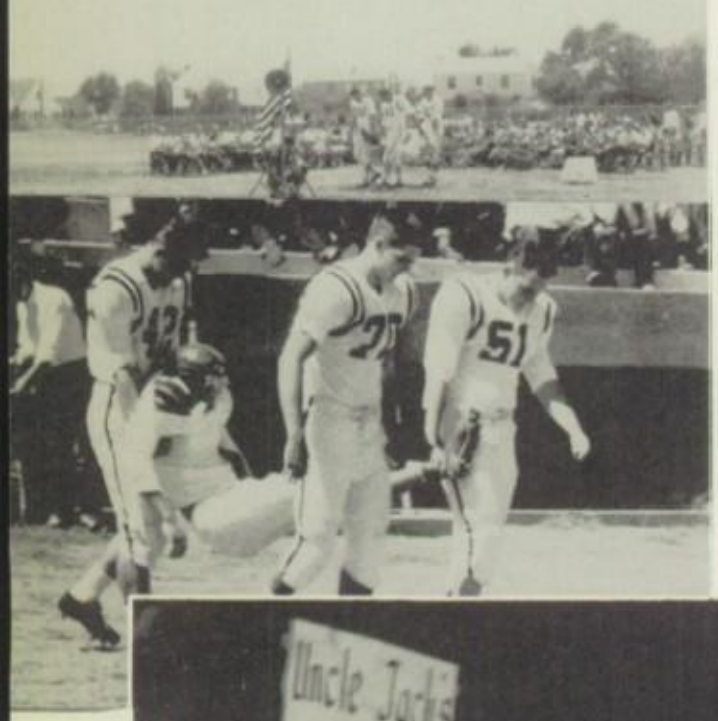
Topics of journalistic interest are discussed at Oklahoma City Interscholastic Press Association meetings.



Eddie Rusha, Paul Corter, and Jack Taylor won awards in the National Printing Contest, 250th observation of Benjamin Franklin's birthday.



Man against a backdrop of wideopen spaces is a normal situation to Oklahomans. Unhampered by construction incompleteness, Mr. W. H. Taylor, with Student President, Sarah Jones, addresses the first student assembly held at Northwest Classen.



In September, if you remember,
Our pep wasn't sagging,
But we felt we were dragging,
So after much agging, and
No doubt some nagging,
We gathered for bragging,

Yapping and wagging,
With only the sky to cover our heads.

Then in November, still loyal contenders,
We rode the KNIGHT TRAIN (pretenders)
Into the gym to see UNCLE JACK'S SHOW.

We believe in signs to cheer on the teams.

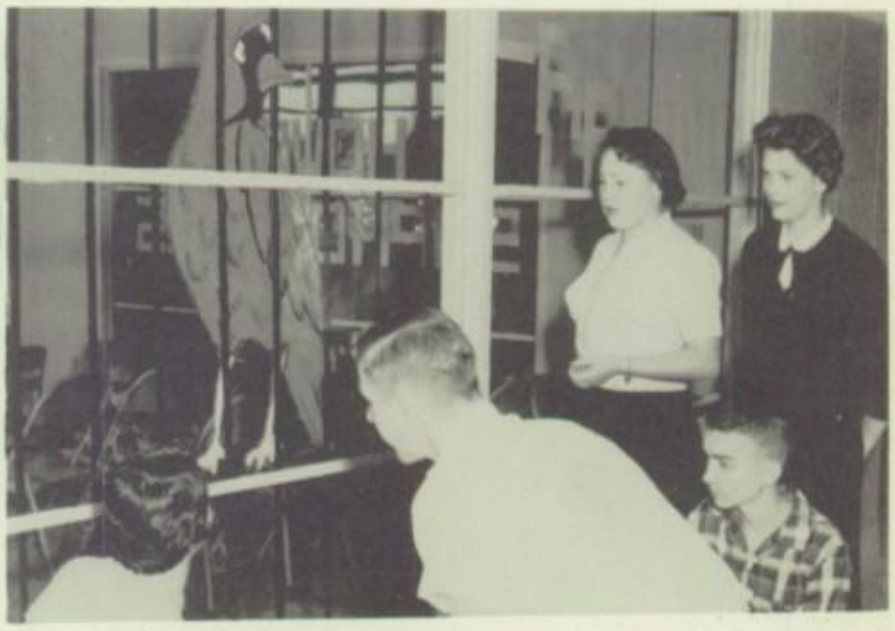
Cheerleaders adore their Knight.

"Lay Lawton Low," was the challenge of the day.

Students storm the gym for a pep rally.

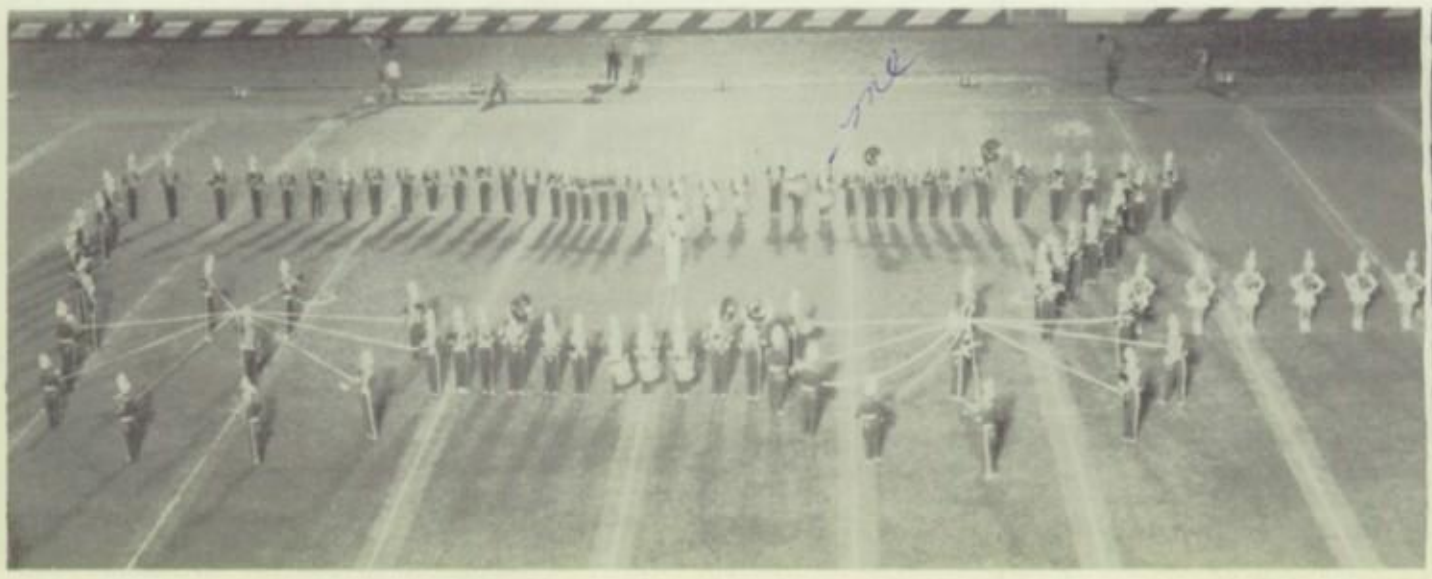
The Pep Band adds pepper.

A familiar sign outside the library.



Caging the Cardinal is always fun, but not a job too easily done.

At half time or curtain time, our band is always a hit.



Shawnee, or bust!

Victories and holidays provide wonderful excuses for our pep clubs to sponsor mixers in our lovely social center. Everyone has fun.

Cygnets honor St. Pat at their back ward mixer. A loyal worker applies another shamrock.

Our first coronation,—held in the gym.

Judy Hayden beams when she learns she's the very first Lancer pep club queen. Ed Glendenning is Judy's escort.

Bobbye Reynolds, Round Table queen candidate, moves wistfully toward the throne.

The "We're-Knott-Sisters" can sing 'em fast or sing 'em slow in spite of Dale Crabtree' saying, "We're-Knott-Singers."

Dayna Davis and Benny Benson do a Calypso dance in assembly.

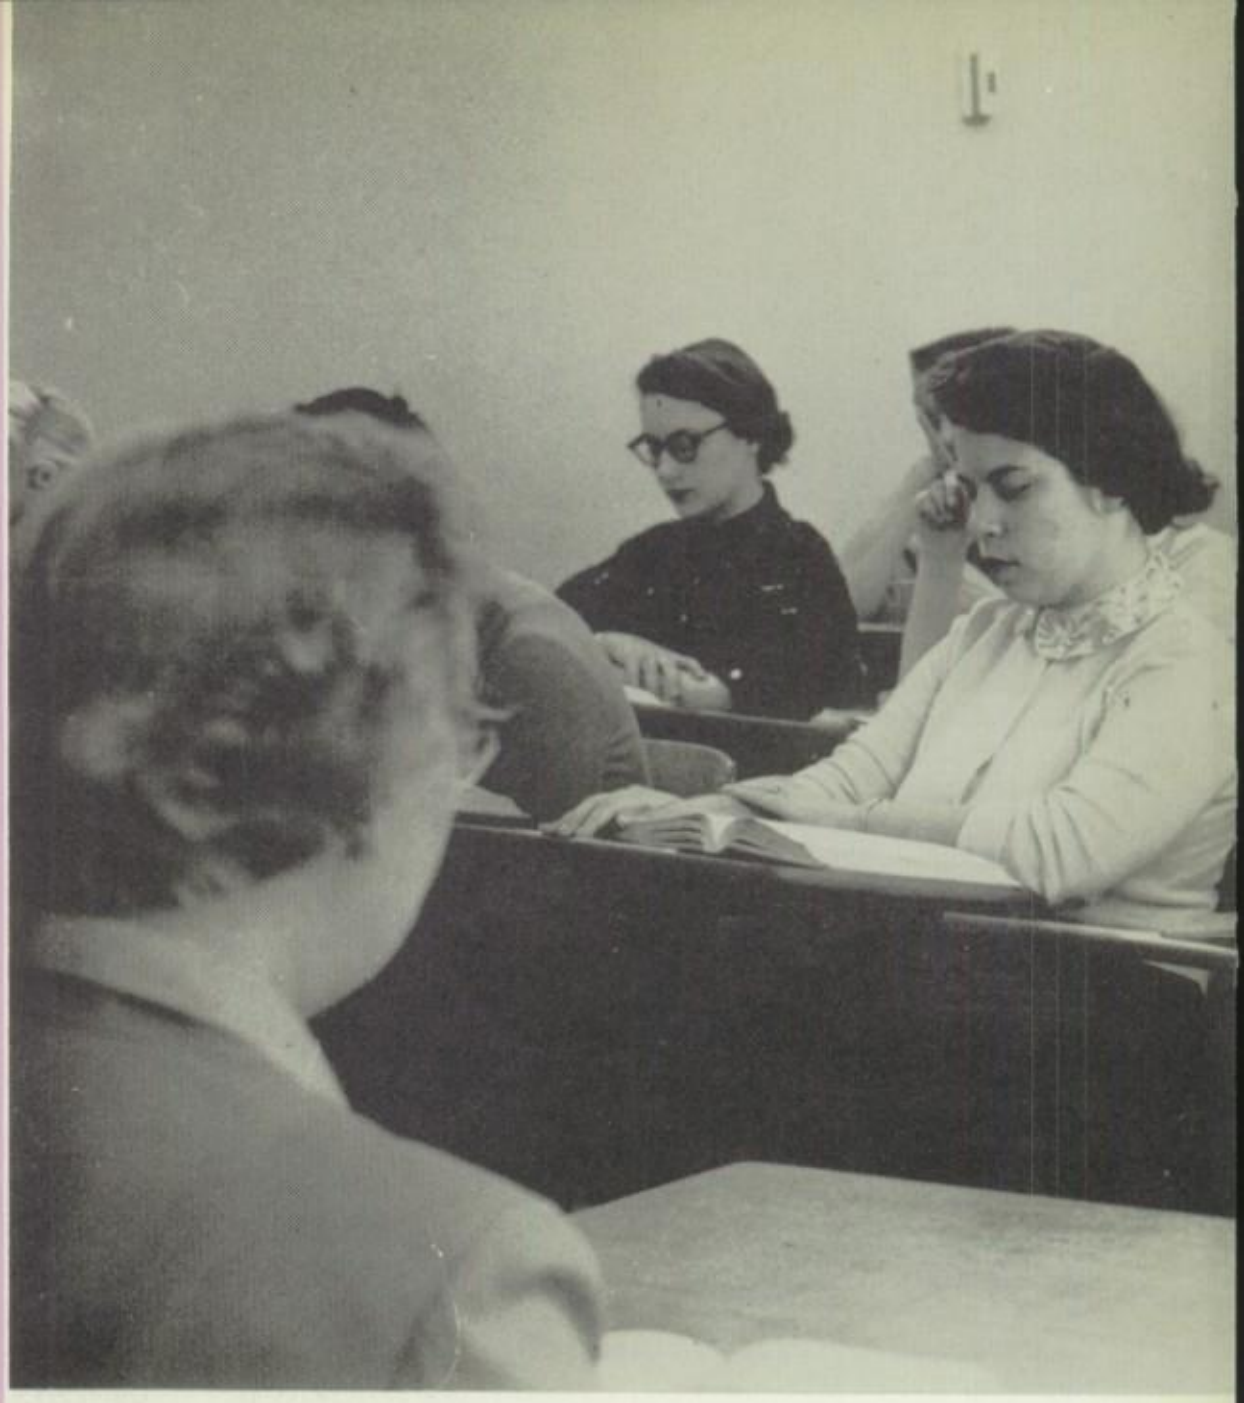
Students assemble for the first time in the new auditorium.

First entertainment for the student body is presented by the choir and orchestra.

You rarely see Richard Crisler without his bass fiddle.

First queen ever named at Northwest Classen was Donna Saulsberry, dream girl of the athletes. Dub Watson did the honors.

Oh why! oh why! Are mikes so high! But height didn't baffle this cowhand.



CLASS SPONSORS: Miss Gordon; Mr. Cunningham; Miss Gibson; Mrs. Hedges; Mr. Irwin; Mr. Smelser; Mrs. Pearce; Mr. Weinert.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Kent Meyers, president; Frank Robertson, vice-president; Bobette Watson, secretary; Mike Stewart, treasurer; Ronnie Hall, sergeant-at-arms.

CLASSES

Learning a foreign language is taken seriously by students in Miss Lelia Pickard's French I class. Remember those humble days, proud class of '56.

Class Of 1956! First graduates of Northwest Classen! Our vision of caps and gowns becomes a reality as we take that final peek in the mirror, to locate that pesky tassel, as the first strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" well from the orchestra pit and announce the breathless moment before commencement exercises.

We attended our last football game with a lump in our throats, and sighed when we suddenly realized "The Classics of '56" would end our stage career. We began to live every moment to its fullest. There were still so many things we'd planned. So much that we weren't going to get done. Could we leave a school so new, yet so old and dear to us?

Despite the choked, tight feeling, and a few carefully concealed tears, there's pride pounding in our hearts. The class of '56 set a pattern that would be becoming to any class entering Northwest Classen. Early in our career we launched the MILLION PENNY ROUND-UP to establish, as our eternal gift to our beloved alma mater, the Jackie Wright Memorial Patio. And we contributed $5,000 to the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation, this enterprise marked us as unique. Others could do as well, but would they? Yes, we thrill with pride as we acknowledge our achievements.

In future years we'll return to saunter beneath the shade of trees that are yet to grow in the patio. We'll touch affectionately the bronze plaque that dedicates an area hallowed by our memories of a classmate and our recollections of happy days here as pioneers. We shall see future seniors, in graduation garb, strolling hand in hand along the curved walks, or chatting leisurely on the stone benches, reveling in their last few days together.

I'm glad I'll be here another year! School is beginning to be fun. This has been my happiest year. Sure, there were hundreds of problems to be solved. We had all kinds of things to do, choosing names for our clubs; deciding what clubs to have; selecting school colors; and an emblem; even naming ourselves, our paper and our yearbook. Things to do, decisions to make, have made this an exciting year.

Being needed to help push the load was a wonderful feeling. Next year it will be our turn to pull while others push. We'll be here to see that things begun this year, carry on. It will be our job to interpret policies and explain hoped for traditions to those who'll assume leadership after our going.

Yes, I'm glad I'll be here another year!

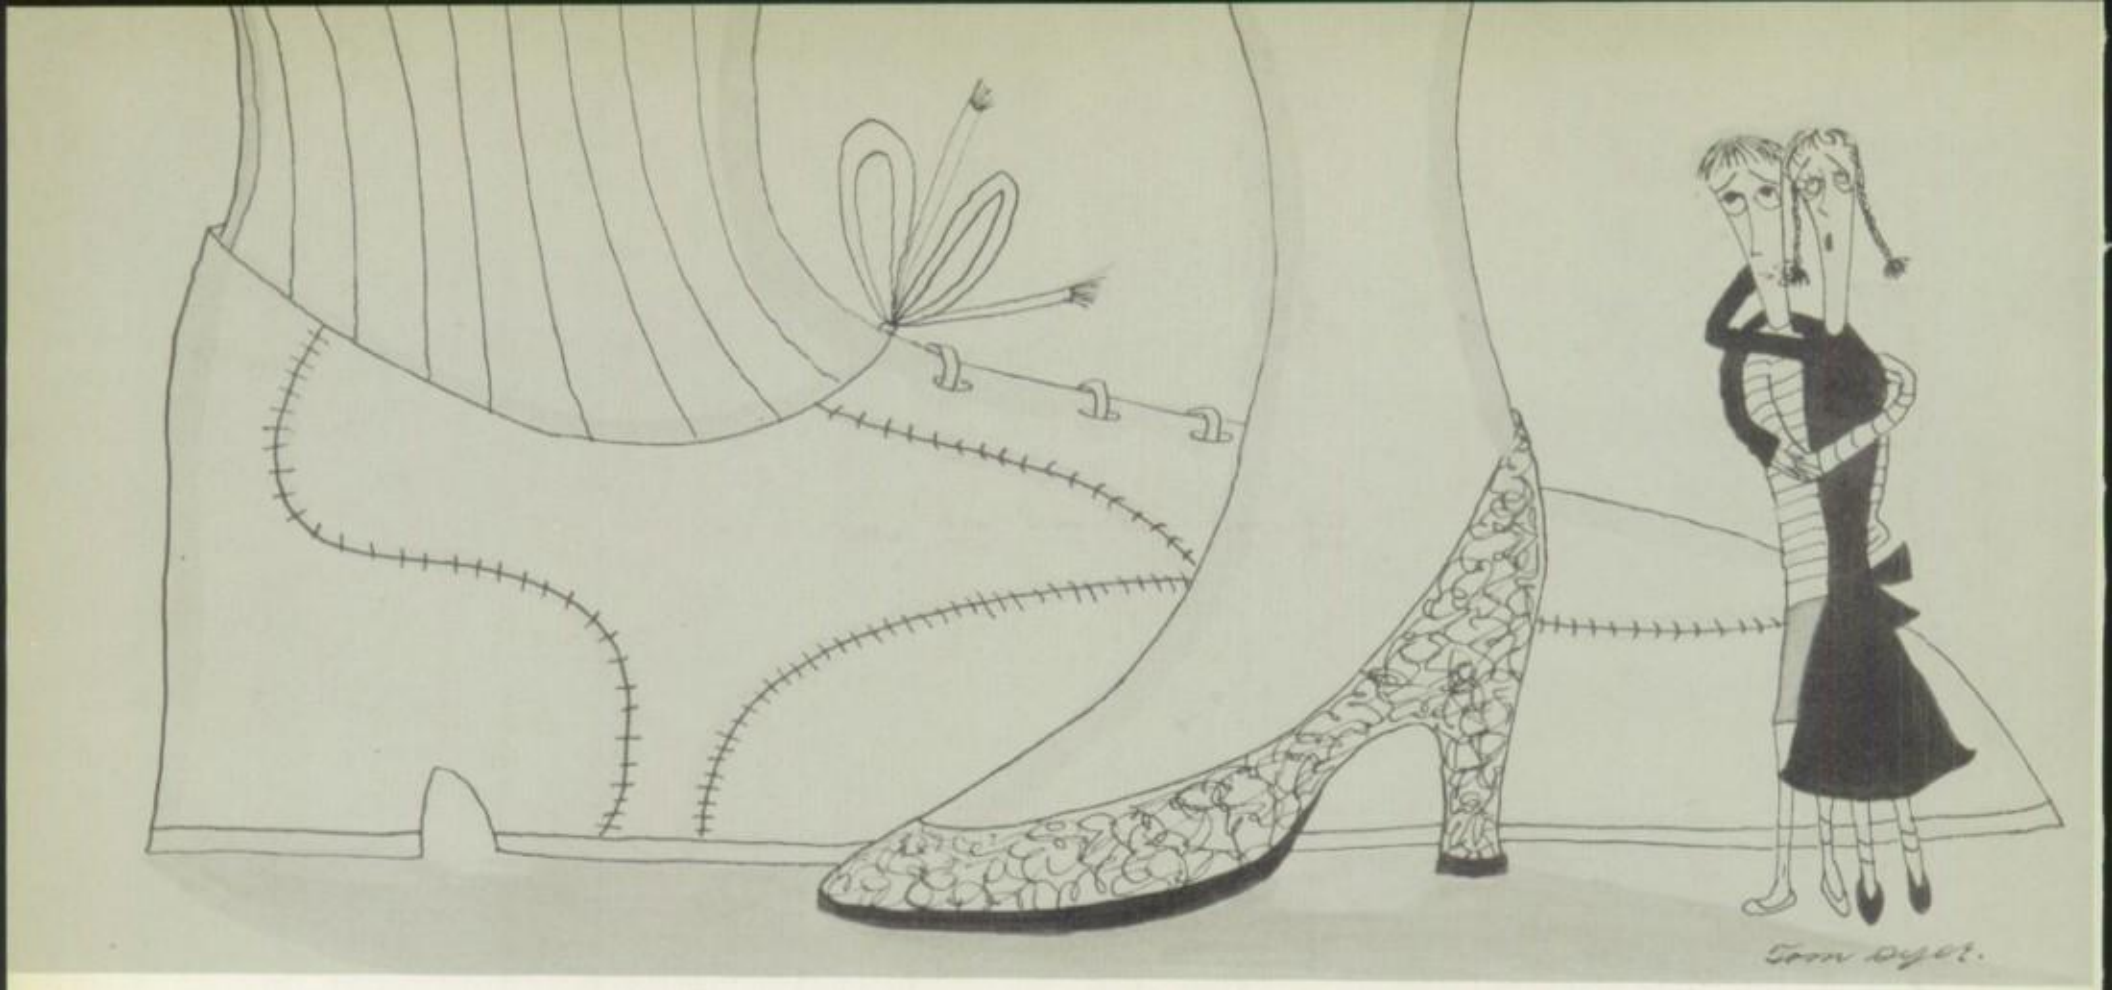
Girls' Glee Club sing Christmas carols, gathered around the Christmas tree in the auditorium foyer.



A sophomore couple suddenly discover they have drifted into a group of juniors and seniors at one of the school mixers.

We have to laugh at ourselves, now. But it wasn't funny at all, September 6, '56, and many of us hurried home, almost scared by the strangeness of our first day in high school.

If the room numbers were only in chronological order! And if there weren't so many people in the halls!!!

Then we discovered we weren't the only ones who were lost. It was just as big and baffling to the juniors, and seniors, too. Even faculty members confessed they didn't know some of the turns. That gave us consolation and a bit of confidence. And soon it was fun discovering a new room, and those OFF LIMITS signs didn't frighten us at all.

The one mystery that remained was how those seniors managed to go to sleep in class with all those buzz saws, tractors, steam shovels and cement mixers booming like fury just outside the windows.

To be a sophomore the first year there was a Northwest Classen, has gained us memories no future class can share:—the first pep rally, out in an open field; those endless days of waiting in line to get books; half day sessions because there was no cafeteria; watching the patio take shape; sharing in dedication of the flag pole; then finally streaming into our beautiful auditorium.

Our first day here seems awfully far away, now. We've learned a lot, and done a lot. We'll be eager to get back next year.

As we write this last block of copy for the first of Northwest Classen's Round Table, the first day of school here looms large.

On that far away day a yearbook was but a figment in our imaginations. Our purpose was definite,—we must capture every possible memory of events of this, a difficult but challenging first year.

Soon hours of research for new and better ideas lead to preparation of the first dummy. Then the second and finally the third.

The herculean task of producing a yearbook is about a 50-50 bout between the staff and the printers. So to Semco Color Press and John Clark, to Hal Owen, photographer, we express thanks for their patience and co-operation; to Miss Mary Lamb Lewis who guided the art staff; to Mr. Clark Cunningham, our financial adviser and business manager; and to all who purchased copies, so that a yearbook could be published.

And a grand farewell from senior members of your yearbook staff to Mrs. Nevva Sartin, director of publications, who pushed us so hard that we finally accomplished what we feel is a fine piece of work, and congratulations to those staffers who will remain with her to do the '57 yearbook.

Due to the tremendous rise in the cost of printing, paper and all of the materials that make a yearbook, we were compelled to forego many ambitious ideas, color photography, more and larger sized pages. Crowding into 160 pages all that we had in 180 pages in a '55 volume was a stupendous task.

Months of planning, haggling, hoping, but most of all love, devotion and teamwork, have gone in your first Round Table in an intense struggle with weeks that never had enough Saturdays, Sundays or holidays.

We've given our best, we trust it will be an enduring part of our first year at our beloved Northwest Classen.

To Sue Fullerton goes credit for designing the cover for the first volume of the Round Table. Silk screen was the best adaptation for the flat cover selected for this year's book. Sue's design was selected by the judges who decide cover designs appropriate for certain materials.

Art work on division pages of the first Round Table was created by Tommy Dyer, junior. Tommy has had several short stories published and recently sold a design to Theatre Arts magazine. He is already working on ideas for the 1957 yearbook.

Even though you don't usually get to hand in time, it's been great being with you.
Al Buschhorn

Dear Carolyn, I've had a great time in Class. I've had a great year in Class. I've had a great year in Class. I've had a great year

To Carolyn,

One of the nicest girls I have ever known. I wish I could have gotten to know you better. Lots of luck with whatever you do.

Always,
Gayle Goode

Carolyn:
It's been a real pleasure knowing you. Hope you have lots of luck & much happiness always !!

Love —
Judy Borchardt
(Am sad to leave Miss Link!? You too?)

Carolyn —
you are a fine girl, Carolyn. I have enjoyed very much knowing you these past few years. I wish you all the happiness in the world whatever you may do —
